19TH YEAR. NO. 202. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1902. TWO CENTS.

AMID FLORAL BEAUTY YOUNG LIVES UNITED IN HOLY MATRIMONY

Elaborate and Impressive Ceremony at the Marshall-Knowles Nuptials in Chester Today at Noon.

Ever since the announcement of the engagement of Miss Alma Marshall, of the Southside, and Mr. Harold Homer Knowles, of this city, East Liverpool society has been more or less on the tiptoe of expectation regarding the ceremony. That it would be elaborate and elegant no one doubted. A recent death in Mr. Knowles' family was all that prevented the occasion from being one of the most brilliant that the city has ever witnessed. As it was, though the ceremony was robbed of much of its splendor, and although none were present save the relatives and most intimate friends of the two families, it was one of the most beautiful home weddings which has occurred here in some time.

The marriage ceremony was performed at high noon today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, of Chester, by Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. J. W. Gorrell, pastor of the Christian church.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall was a mass of floral beauty. Flowers were used in great profusion, and the entire plan was ingeniously and delicately wrought by a local florist. In the large double parlors the decorations were in green and white. The mantles were banked with white roses and astors. At the north end of the room, and near two windows which overlook the placid waters of the Ohio, a bower had been formed of luxuriant tropical plants.

This entrancing spot was made the marriage altar. The decorations in the south parlor consisted of tropical plants and pink roses, while those in the dining room, which was decorated in pink and white, were so arranged as to make a delicate and pleasing effect.

The sonorous notes of the Lohengrin march, as played by Miss Burtt Johnson, a friend of the bride, announced the approach of the bridal party, which formed in the spacious reception hall. First came the ribbon bearers, Misses Nell Baillie, of Pittsburg, and Nina Lee, of this city, who advanced bearing with them the ribbon which formed the aisle through which the bridal party passed. Then came the other bridesmaids, Miss Adelaide

AN IVITATION EXTENDED TO CITIZENS GENERALLY

The present management of the News Review, since assuming control of the paper on March 1, 1901, has constantly been enlarging its facilities and improving the paper. How the circulation has grown since new life was infused into the paper; how it was more than trebled in one short year are matters with which its readers are well acquainted. But very few persons are aware of the extent of the change wrought in the mechanical department of the paper. The proprietors have constantly been adding new machinery and during the present month have installed an up-to-date press which prints 5,000 to 6,000 papers an hour. It is a marvel of mechanism and well worth inspection.

The News Review now has its plant in most excellent shape, and is the best equipped of any newspaper office in the county for the publication of a daily paper. It has also one of the largest and best arranged job offices in eastern Ohio. That the public may know what has been done and those who are not familiar with the various processes by which an up-to-date daily newspaper is produced, the publishers invite all readers, patrons and friends to make a visit to the News Review office some time Friday afternoon or evening of this week. The entire plant will be open to inspection from 3 to 10 p. m. The wonderful Mergenthaler typesetting machines—one of the marvels of the age—will be in operation; the new press will be set going and papers run upon it, and the job rooms will also be open for visitors' inspection. A cordial invitation is extended to the public, both ladies and gentlemen, to call during the hours mentioned. Newspaper men of this city and of the county and neighborhood are especially invited. The News Review is ready for a house-warming and wants to meet all its friends, and to show them just how the oldest and best daily paper in Columbiana county is made. Children, unless accompanied by their parents, will not be admitted.

RAILROAD MEN CHARGED WITH DEFYING CITY LAWS

The Pennsylvania company was the recipient of a considerable amount of anything but complimentary remarks from the members of council at the meeting last evening. The remarks were occasioned when Mr. Johnson spoke of the manner in which trainmen switched their cars on horn switch. He stated that on several occasions lately pedestrians had had very narrow escapes.

A general discussion of the action of the trainmen was taken up with the result that the mayor and marshall were given specific instructions to arrest the conductor of any train when he was found making a "flying switch."

Mayor Davidson took the floor and stated that he had already had a session with one of the minor railroad officials. It was only yesterday that an official had come to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant against two small boys for jumping on trains.

The mayor certainly gave the officials a straight talk from the shoulder. He stated that he was sorry that he was compelled to make the complaint, yet the trainmen never attempted to obey the ordinances in the manner of switching cars. The mayor stated that the company would block sidewalks and then, if anyone climbed over the cars, the officials were asked to arrest them.

The same conditions also exist at the crossings along the main tracks of the company through the city. Ordinances have been passed to prohibit unnecessary whistling and the company never even made an attempt to obey it.

The city official state that the preemptory order to inforce the ordinannee preventing flying switches will be enforced to the letter and that arrests will follow any violation. Unless the trainmen change their tactics it will not be long until the officials will have cause for action. The council has done well to take this matter up as all who have to cross the horn switch during the day have seen numerous narrow escapes if they have not had them themselves.

NEW OBJECTION MADE TO THE NASH CODE FOR THE CITIES OF OHIO

It Is Contended That It Would Be Expensive For Small Municipalities—Other Plans Suggested.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 27.—While he does not wish to be regarded as opposing Governor Nash, Representative Daniel Crist, of Columbiana county, questions very much whether the form of government provided for small cities under the administration plan, would be practicable. He fears it would increase their expenses many fold. To his mind the proper solution of the problem would be to submit to the voters, next year, the question of amending the constitution, to provide for the classification of cities on a basis of population. It is beginning to dawn upon the legislators that government for the lesser municipalities under the code, as introduced, will be an expensive luxury, the knowledge of which is making new converts to the idea that a constitutional amendment is the only way out of the difficulty.

A desire to obviate the imposition of unnecessary expense upon the lesser municipalities is what moved the governor in his advocacy of the plan to make 15,000 the dividing mark between cities and villages. It was quite apparent to him that the lower the line was put, the greater would be the expense of the operation of the law in the muicipalities desiring to remain in the city class. Speaker McKinnon thinks the constitution should be amended to permit classification of cities, and that there should be four grades, based on populations of 5,000, 25,000, 100,000 and all above 100,000. Then, he says, there should be a sufficient variety of governmental systems to fully meet the diversified necessities of every municipal division in the state. He thinks that a resolution providing for this should be submitted to the voters in 1903, so that the next general assembly could be able to establish a stable and popular form of administration for the various classes of cities.

It is astonishing how the members are falling into line with this suggestion; yet it is doubtful if this agitation will lead to the adoption of the plan. The governor would hardly entertain for a moment a proposition to lay his bill aside. Messrs. Crist and Buell have been asked to meet the citizens of the leading cities in Columbiana

CITY ENGINEER SCORED BY NICE

Who Says City Will Not Pay For Relaying of Sidewalks on Fifth Street.

CITY WANTS ITS PROPERTY

Contractor Rinehart Must Return the Roller at Once—Two Plats of New Additions Accepted—Street Signs Have Been Ordered.

If the meeting of city council was lengthy, it can also be said that a vast amount of important business was transacted. But one member was absent, Dr. Marshall, of the Fifth ward, being out of the city.

A report was made by the special committee which had been appointed to investigate and report upon the advisability of constructing a bridge to connect Eighth and Chestnut streets. Several matters were explained and the committee was continued.

The grading of Springdale street was brought up through a petition signed by all the property owners on the street. It was explained by Attorney Grosshans, who is one of the signers, that the improvement would not cost the city a cent. The residents simply desired that the work be done under the direction of the engineer and in the manner usually employed with reference to the payments. John Lutton had partially completed the work, but had thrown up the contract, and it was the desire of those owning the property to have the remainder of the grading done by McLaughlin Bros., the engineer to determine how much Lutton was entitled to be paid for. The request was granted.

The light committee recommended the placing of six of the small lights in the vicinity of Edgewood, where between 30 and 40 new houses had been built within the past few years. The recommendation was concurred in. Mr. Johnston stated a light was badly needed on Franklin street. This latter was referred to the light committee.

Chairman Barlow, of the wharf committee, asked that repairs be made at the Broadway wharf. A sewer at that point was in very bad shape, as was shown by an explanation from Wharfmaster McClure. An appropriation of $50 was made to have the repairs completed.

A petition was read asking that the plat of M. R. McKinnon's tenth addition to the city be accepted. Reference was made to the ordinance providing for street improvements, bridges and monument stones to the placed at street corners. The question was asked as to whether the requirements had been complied with. Messrs. Bullock and Johnston stated they had made a trip to the new addition during the afternoon, and that a considerable amount of work had been done. There was some difference of opinion on the question of accepting the plat, President Nice stating that he had looked over the ground and in his opinion the condition of the streets was in anything but a completed state. There was a deep ravine in the addition and this had not been bridged, nor had the grade on several of the streets been made to correspond with those on the other side of the Calcutta road. Some of the members were a little rusty on the requirements of the ordinance, and it was finally stated that all the ordinance required was for the owners of the new addition to make the streets passable for

A GREAT JANGLE OVER LIGHT BILLS

SALINEVILLE'S CITY ATTORNEY WANTS THE CITY ENJOINED.

Culmination of a Dispute in Council Over Payment for Electric Lighting.

Salineville, August 27.—(Special)—There is a merry war on in the town council, which is split into two factions, pulling in opposite directions. It all arose over the electric lighting company's bills, certain councilmen contending that they were unreasonable and should not be paid.

The lighting bill for July was held over and hung up, but now an ordinance providing for its payment and also the August bill is pending and is now on its second reading.

The city solicitor, F. E. McCormick, will go to Lisbon today and endeavor to get an injunction issued, restraining the clerk from paying any money over to the light company. The light company has employed attorneys and a most interesting fight is promised.

A Late Start Home.

The last excursion train to Rochester which took the parties who were in attendance at the picnic at Rock Sprins park Tuesday did not leave the local station until 11 o'clock last night. A large number of the excursionists remained until the late train. The 7:33 train west was delayed for nearly an hour on account of the rush of traffic.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, Aug. 27—(Special)—Marriage licenses were issued as follows: Edgar S. Hawkins, of East Rochester, and Miss Nettie Myers, of Bayard; Andrew Miller and Miss Annie Smith, of Homeworth; Byron Shively, of Moultrie, and Miss Ada M. Bower, of New Chambersburg.

TWO WOMEN OF SALEM LEAVE HUSBANDS AND HOME

Salem, August 27.—Mrs. Adam Erbe and Mrs. Hiram Bourne, both of Broadway, took their bag and baggage Monday afterroon and suddenly left the city. It is alleged that their stay away from the city is likely to be permanent. Each woman has a little daughter and the children were taken along.

Domestic infelicity is assigned as a reason for the women thus breaking up their homes. It is said the husbands were aware of the plans of the women, and when they returned home from work last night found them gone. The women went to Cleveland from this city, and their destination after that is not made public.

Mr. Bourne and Mr. Erbe work at the pottery, and are industrious. They announce that they will sell their household goods soon. Mr. Bourne said it was true the women had gone for good. He said he had an idea where they went, but declined to state the place. He stated that in the event his wife should return she could not expect his support again.

The outcome of the matter will probably be two divorce suits filed by the deserted husbands.

Mr. Bourne was formerly a resident of East Liverpool, having resided for a number of years on Peake street, the second house north of Ogden street.

ON THE WAY TO THE FAIR

The Horse Reared, Young Lady Was Thrown Out And Buggy Broken.

Campbell Brown and Miss Elitha Cowles, the latter being a visitor to friends in this city from New Castle, met with a runaway accident just as they were starting for Hookstown this morning. The couple were in a runabout and the horse took fright at a train just as they were driving over the Broadway crossing.

The animal reared and came down straddling the shafts. Brown managed to alight to catch the horse's head before the vehicle turned over, but Miss Cowles was thrown out. The front axle of the vehicle was bent in such a manner that it had to be returned to the livery stable. As neither of the occupants was injured, another buggy was secured and the trip to the fair began over again.

Took Two to Jail.

Sheriff Leonard, who was in Wellsville, returned to Lisbon yesterday afternoon. He took with him Ellis Stoffel and Roy McCalmont, the two young men who were charged with entering and robbing Hale's confectionery store in Wellsville.

JUDGE HOADLY DEAD

Ex-Governor of Ohio Died Last Night at Watkins, N. Y.

Watkins, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Ex-Governor Hoadly, of Ohio, died here last evening. He and his family had been at Watkins for several weeks. The remains will be taken to Cincinnati for burial. George Hoadly was born in New Haven, Conn., July 31, 1826. He was educated at the Western Reserve college, studid law at Cambridge, Zanesville and Cincinnati and was admitted to the bar in the latter city in 1847.

In 1851 he was elected by the legislature as sole judge of the superior court of Cincinnati as originally constituted, and in 1855 city solicitor. In 1859 he was elected and in 1864 re-elected by the people one of the judges of the new superior court. Later he declined a position on the supreme bench. In 1866 he resigned as superior judge. He was a Republican until 1872 when he joined the Greeley movement. In October, 1883, Judge Hoadly was elected governor of Ohio, defeating Joseph B. Foraker by whom he was in turn defeated in 1885. Gov. Hoadly was one of the counsel which successfully opposed the project of cumpulsory reading of the bible in the public schools. In March, 1887, Gov. Hoadly removed to New York city and became the head of a law firm.

Col. W. C. Watson, of this city, was on Gov. Hoadly's staff. He had been state tobacco inspector under Gov. R. M. Bishop, an office created by the Grangers, being the first and only man to hold that position. The tobacco warehouse at Bellaire was constructed under his supervision. Knowing that the scheme would be a failure, Col. Watson resigned and recommended that the office be abolished. This was done, and remembering it, Gov. Hoadly, believing in honesty in official life, tendered him a place on his staff, and Col. Watson served during his term as aide de camp with the rank of colonel. He had previously served several years in the National Guard.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX

DEVELOPS AT THE RILEY HOME NEAR ROGERS.

A Son of the Former Victim Taken Ill of the Disease

Rogers, Aug. 27.—(Special)—Another case of smallpox has developed in the Roley family, the victim being Edwin, son of the former vicitm.

No alarm is felt, however, as the attending physician, Dr. S. K. Crawford, hesitated for several days before pronouncing the case smallpox on account of the very mild form in which the disease appeared. Dr. Crawford has the case well in hand, and does not hesitate to say there is no danger whatever of the disease spreading. The authorities have taken every precaution to prevent an epidemic, and there is no anxiety felt at this time. T. E. Roley, the man mho has been afflicted with the disease for some time is recovering rapidly, and is now out of danger. The mother, who has been ill for several days, and who was thought to be taking smallpox is now entirely out of danger, and will not take the disease.

AT THE AGE OF 95

Alexander Wells, of Wellsville, Visits Lisbon and Recalls Early Days.

Lisbon, Aug. 27—(Special)—Alex. Wells, of Wellsville, who is in his 95th year, is visiting at the home of his son, W. G. Wells, in this city. Mr. Wells is in the enjoyment of the best of health and told to a number of court officials this morning of his first remembrance of witnessing punishment by order of the court when the prisoner was given nine lashes on his back at the whipping post.

The court then was a log structure, located just west of the present building.

FLATTERING OFFERS COME TO MALEY

The Young Pitcher Gets Offers From Cincinnati and Boston.

HIS RECORD WAS WATCHED

And the Big League Teams Are Anxious That He Should Finish the Season With Them—He Has the Offers Under Consideration.

East Liverpool has another offer to put one of its base ball players in the big league. Lawrence Maley, the "boy" pitcher, who has been brought out in this city during the present season, last evening received a telegram from Joe Kelly, manager of the Cincinnati National league team, asking the Liverpool boy if he would finish the season with the aggregation.

As if the managers of the big teams allowed their minds to travel in the same channel, a letter was received this morning from the manager of the Boston National league team, asking Maley to finish the season with that team. The managers of the big league have in their hands a record of the work of Maley since he began playing with the East Liverpool team, and it was a study of this which caused the offer.

Maley was seen at his work at the Buckeye pottery this afternoon and stated that he had not as yet made up his mind whether or not he would accept either of the offers. He has a good paying position as mouldmaker, which he would probably lose if he left for five or six weeks.

However, if arrarngements can be made in regard to his position it is probable that he will accept one or the other of the offers. Maley is only 18 years of age, and a number of his friends have advised him to wait another year at least before branching out.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

HE WRITES OF FRAUD.

Jerome James, of Boston, in a recent issue of an eastern trade paper, writes as follows about the supposed frauds, relative to the undervaluation of imported crockery. It is indeed an interesting communication, and in part follows: "The question of fraud in the undervaluation of imports is important to all good citizens. The administrative sections of the tariff laws are made drastic to insure the effective collection of the revenue, and should be inforced to the extent of ferreting out and punishing those who seek to evade the proper payment of duties. Every honest and intelligent importer should co-operate with the domestic manufacturers, who compete against the foreign article, in securing honest work at the custom house; else the honest importer, when put in competition with the fraudulent one, would be put out of business and probably in the bankruptcy court. On Sunday last a New York paper had a startling piece of news about the discovery of fraud in the importation of pottery to the extent of millions; that it ran back for years, and fully twenty millions of dollars had been defrauded; all of which, if true, was alarming to those who believe in honest government.

"In the more than forty years I have been in the pottery business ther has been the periodical cry of undervaluation and fraud by importers in this line, and several important trials, the last one on English pottery, was in Cleveland's administration, when Daniel Manning was secretary of the treasury (as Secretary Shaw is now). All crates coming into the ports of New York and Philadelphia were held up pending the investigation, which covered several weeks, under Appraiser Moore, of Philadelphia, and it resulted in the complete vindication of the importers. Several years since, when hearings were had before the Ways and Means committee, the question of fraud by undervaluation came up, and the best statistics that were produced under Schedule B, pottery and glass revealed less than one per cent. undervaluation. When the former merchant appraiser system was in vogue I served many times as merchant appraiser with the United States appraiser, and when we dsagreed the Collector of the Port decided it; but the trails rarely revealed any important difference. When the "Moiety" law was in vogue the incentive to charge and prove fraud was greater than now, but the charges were usually based upon the suspicion of competitors. I have taken this space to resent the suspicion that is cast upon every importer by such gross charges as that in the New York paper of last Sunday, but which was neutralized by the prompt answer quoted above by Secretary Shaw of Washington. The United States Board of Appraisers are an efficient body, backed by the whole treasury and judicial departments of the Government. Let us trust that, notwithsatnding the temptation that follows an excessively high tariff on imports, the integrity and efficiency of the revenue will be maintained."

A SEVERE TEST.

In a recent issue of the London Pottery Gazette, there appeared the following: "One of the features of the present moment in the ceramic world is the continuous increase in the use of chromo-lithographic decoration on pottery. In transfers the progress has been great; today the productions are excellent, full of life and vigor, showing the touch of the skilled artist's hand, putting completely into the shade the crude printing and filling in which has so long held the market in on glaze work. The trasfers are also of equal value from the user's point of view. They wear as well as painted work, although some interested parties have circulated a report to the contrary. Those of us who are acquainted with the different methods know how absurd this idea is. The colors are the same. It is quite immaterial whether the colors are laid upon the ware with a brush or with a piece of paper; given a proper kiln fire the one is just as durable as the other. Some time ago a few of the principal potters, being anxious to determine the question, initiated and carried through a series of severe tests consisting of boiling, scrubbing, rubbing, etc., ware, and proved to their satisfaction that the transfers were most durable and in no way inferior to painted ware. The use of transfers will increase in the future and become the principal source of decoration for ware for useful purposes, a fact which our retail dealers will do well to bear in mind. For the present, these transfers are almost solely in enamel or on glaze-color; progress in the use of underglaze colors is very slow and tenative, but there is progress, and in time we believe the difficulties will be overcome."

BITS FROM TRENTON.

Improvements are being made to the plant of the Trenton Fire Clay & Porcelain Co. A new stack and a couple of kilns are now in course of construction.

George Austin, formerly manager of a pottery in the city of Mexico, has accepted a position in the decorating department of the Old Greenwood pottery.

A new shape on cover pieces has been placed on the market in the dinner ware line by the Glasgow. It was designed by Howard B. Moses.

The Mercer Pottery Co., is getting out a new toilet set, and has several of the pieces finished. Those who have seen it declare the set will be popular.

The reports coming in from the representatives of the Trenton potteries now on the road seem to indicate that the stocks all over the country are exceedingly low and a heavy fall trade may be looked for.

The Old Greenwood pottery meets with great difficulty in getting hard coal to fire the kilns, and much inconvenience is caused thereby. Soft coal does not answer the purpose of firing vitrified china as it does in general ware so it is claimed.

Lou Brown, formerly traveling man for the Trenton Potteries Co., and now manager of the new Buffalo pottery, writes that the work on that plant is well under way and the first kiln will likely be fired about October 1. The output of the plant will be toilet, dinner and specialties.

JIGGERMEN'S MEETING.

The special meeting held by jiggermen's local No. 12 last evening was one of the most interesting that has been held for months. The attendence was much larger than usual, but this was due to the fact that some special matters were to be talked over, relative to the establishing of a uniform day's work. It will be remembered that the purpose of the special meeting was told exclusively in this paper Monday evening, and yesterday the story was read with interest. The matter of having the jiggermen place a limit on their work was discussed at length last evening, and resulted in a committee composed of John Reark, Frederick Sheedy, Charles Hanley, Lute Smith and Frank Gratton being appointed to investigate the question. As soon as the regular meeting adjourned, the special committee met and formed an organization, and it is thought they will be able to make some sort of a report of their work at their meeting next week. The question is a most interesting one and will be investigated thoroughly.

NEED WORKMEN HERE.

Good pottery workers experience no trouble at all in finding employment at New Castle, Pa. The potteries in that town have a rush of orders which will keep them busy for some time. The same conditions prevail in this city and it is no trouble for a good pottery workman to secure a good position right at home.

MACHINERY SHIPPED.

By the latter part of this week all the machinery for the pottery which is to be erected at Crooksville will have been completed at the Patterson foundry in this city. Part of the machinery has already been sent to Crooksville and the remainder will be shipped about the first of the coming week.

GOOD TRADE IN SIGHT.

In a recent interview Charles Howell Cook, the well-known manufacturer, said: "The outlook is for a good pottery trade this fall. This is a matter of congratulation not only to the manufacturers but to the operatives as will. Everybody is better satisfied and much better off when trade is good."

WORKMEN SCARCE.

T. H. Bradshaw, of the Niles Pottery Co., arrived in the city this morning for a few days' business visit. He states that business with the new pottery at Niles is good and that the only trouble he has is in securing workmen. As this has been the cry every place, Mr. Bradshaw considers himself lucky that he is able to keep a full crew of first class workers.

GIVEN A CHAIR.

Charles D. Geller, who for 23 years has been shipping clerk at the Greenwood pottery, Trenton, N. J., severed his connection with that plant last week to go into the cooperage business. He was substantially remembered by the office force, being presented with a handsome Morris chair.

ORGANIZING PRESSERS.

Vice-President Hutchins, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, at Trenton, is now devoting his efforts toward forming a local of the general ware pressers. No meetin of the men in this branch has been held, but Mr. Hutchins is endeavoring to bring them togeteher.

MERE HISTORY.

In the pottery department of a local paper last evening there appeared eight items about that trade. Out of this number two could be considered fresh news. The other six appeared in these columns from a week to 10 days ago. Imitators make poor copyists.

RESUMED OPERATIONS.

Owing to the overflowing of the Assanpink creek and the canal at Trenton, the following potteries were compelled to shut down: Anchor, Bellmark, Equitable, Empire, Keystone and Acme potteries. All have resumed operations.

Cholera Morbus.

This is an extremely dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from it, and in many instances before a physician could be summoned or medicine obtained. Mrs. E. H. Delano, of Durant, Mich., is subject to severe attacks of cholera morbus. During the past four years she has kept at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and says it has always given her quick relief. During this time she has used two bottles of it. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. The safe way is to keep it at hand ready for instant use. CAPITAL BOMBARDED.

Columbian Warship Shells the City of Ciudad Bolivar, and Many Persons Killed and Wounded.

Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar, capital of the state of Bolivar, has been bombarded by a Columbian government warship, and many persons were killed or wounded. The place had a large British population, and the British subjects have requested that a warship of Great Britain be sent for their protection. It is alleged that atrocities have been committed at Ciudad Bolivar by both the government troops and the revolutionists.

WANT A FLAG

Members of the O. U. A. M. Can't Understand Why There is None at Horace Mann Building.

Why is it that some of the members of the board of education pay no attention to the requests of the O. U. A. M. of the East End, who desire to erect a flag in front of the Horace Mann school, is more than some members of the order can understand. This school has been opened for more than a year, and there is not a semblance of a flag about the building. There is a state law governing these matters.

One member of Ohio Valley council, No. 23, O. U. A. M., this morning said that he had talked to members of the board of education about the placing of a flag on the building, but he could get no satisfaction from any member. The East End council is willing and only too anxious to either place a pole in front of the new school and permit the board to buy the flag, or vice versa, the council will buy the flag if the board will erect the pole. Its members argue that something should be done.

BROKE A LAMP

Excitement at the Revival Meeting Led to Some Confusion.

There was all sorts of excitement at the Free Methodist revival meeting at the Neville institute last evening, and it came near resulting in the destruction of the building by fire. The attendance at these meetings is great. Long before the meeting commences the little school room is packed almost to suffocation. Still, with all this the religious spirit seems to be there, and last night excitement ran high. There were said to be four conversions at the meeting. While one good brother stood up on a seat and said a few words, throwing his hands through the air over his head, down came one of the large lamps. When the lamp fell with a crash, confusion reigned supreme for a time.

The lamp fell down between a seat and the legs of a workman of the Laughlin pottery. This man was very alert, picked the broken lamp up and cast it out of a window. Then the meeting proceeded, although the room was a little darker than before.

Race for $50 Purse.

A horse race for a purse of $50 a side will take place at Columbian park one week from next Monday. It will be for blood from the start. It came about through a few remarks made at the East End station yesterday. H. L. Bradman owns a horse he calls Dan W. Larkins & Ferguson own a horse called Virginia Girl, and the merits of these two horses has been discussed at length by their owners. Arguments became so warm that a race was arranged, and now all sorts of wagers are being made on the result. Those who claim to know the merits of the two horses say Virginia Girl will win.

New Bridge Completed.

At last the bridge on Virginia avenue have been completed, and the thanks of the citizens of that part of the city are presented to Street Commissioner Frank Dickey. The last of the work of filling in of the approaches to the bridge was completed yesterday afternoon, and a fence or guard rail has been placed on the south side of the bridge along the bank of the run, which is spanned by the bridge. The improvement is one that has been long needed, and is greatly appreciated, especially by teamsters.

Fire in the 'Squire's Office.

A small fire occurred in the office of Justice L. W. Carman yesterday, but luckily not much damage was done. How the fire started no one seems to know, for there was no one in the office at the time. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Fulton, who lives on the same floor as Mr. Carman. She smelled smoke, which caused her to make an investigation. A table cloth was burned and some law books were scorched.

To Confer First Degree.

A number of applications will be presented at a meeting of Ohio Valley Council, No. 25, O. U. A. M., tomorrow evening, and after these are considered the first degree is expected to be conferred upon a number of new members. The lodge is one of the most interesting in the East End, and since it removed into the new hall on First avenue its membership has been increasing rapidly.

Attended a Funeral.

After spending a few weeks with relatives in western Pennsylvania and also attending the funeral of a sister, Mrs. W. J. Terrence, of First avenue, returned to her home today. She was met at Pittsburg by Mr. Terrence, who accompanied her home.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

The little children of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marshall spent today in Beaver visiting relatives.

Miss Blanche Fredericks, of New Brighton, and Miss Lulu Lloyd, of Fallston, were in the East End yesterday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. King, of St. George street.

Harold, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Haney, of First avenue, who has been ill with pneumonia for several days, is recovering, and it is expected he will be able to be out in a few days.

Assistant Street Commissioner Howard, of the East End, has opened Irwin street, from Ohio avenue to St. George street. This is the first street east of the new residence of Councilman Thomas.

SALINEVILLE

Salineville, August 27.—The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Nixon, a highly respected lady of 88 years, who died at Sewickley, Pa., occurred Sunday from the home of the late Postmaster Henry Nixon. She was born in Ireland and had lived in Salineville for over over 50 years. She had resided in Sewickley only about two years. The funeral service were conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. M. Rader, assisted by Rev. T. Watson. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery.

Rev. Mr. McKnight, of Mechanicstown, occupied the pulpit in the United Presbyterian church last Sunday evening at 4 o'clock.

R. G. Thompson returned home from Youngstown last Taursday after an absence of nearly four weeks on account of the illness of his daughter, Mrs. F. Bunn. He was present at the reunion of the two Carroll county companies held in Alliance, Company A, Thirty-second O. V. I., and the Twenty-sixth Independent battery, O. V. I. Only six of his company, A, were present, and 26 of the latter. They adjourned to meet the third Thursday of August, 1903, in Alliance.

Fred S. Bunn, a pharmacist of Youngstown, is prostrated at the home of his parents in this town with a serious attack of inflammatory rheumatism, while his wife is at their home in Youngstown slowly recovering from the effects of an operation in the city hospital on August 18. Mr. Bunn realized that he was on the verge of having a serious attack of that dread disease, and having no one to care for him took the first train to Salineville for the home of his mother, where he is now in a helpless condition. His wife has since been removed to her home in the care of her mother, Mrs. R. G. Thompson, who will bring her to Salineville as soon as she is able to travel.

Mrs. John House, near Grant's Hill, died Monday at her home, leaving a family of six small children. She was the daughter of the city street commissioner.

NEW OBJECTION MADE TO THE NASH CODE FOR THE CITIES OF OHIO

county to talk over the code. The former thinks the plan a good one and favors an adjournment being taken to give the members a chance to return and explain the bill to their constituents. He believes a week or so should be allowed for this purpose.

Under the code, all cities under 25,000 will have a mayor, three members of a board of public service, auditor, treasurer, four members of a board of public safety, police judge and police clerk and solicitor. Members from the counties and districts containing small towns say the municipalities which they represent can get along very well without any boards, auditor, police judge and police clerk. They argue these additional adjuncts will increase the burden of taxation.

The Nash code was introduced in the senate yesterday by Mr. Longworth, of Hamilton, and in the house by Mr. Comings, of Lorain. Speaker McKinnon appointed 23 members, 15 Republicans and 8 Democrats, a special committee to consider the bill. They will go over its provisions carefully, listen to hearings from the public on the measure and will submit a report to the house, recommending what action, in their judgment, should be taken. Metzgar, of Stark, and Maag, of Mahoning, were among those appointed on the committee. Six bills were introduced in the house yesterday.

Guerin, of Sandusky, introduced three, one curing the defect in the Royer act, taking away jurisdiction from the supreme court, and two others affecting pleadings and appeals. McNamee, of Franklin, introduced his pet measure, which was defeated last winter, to knock out the relief departments of the Pennsylvania and B. & O. railroads. Maag, of Mahoning, presented a bill to repeal the act allowing the clerk of the supreme court to have all the records in cases printed. This measure was rushed through on the last day of the recent session. It takes away from the attorneys the right to have their printing done at home. The senate was the scene of some excitement. Thompson, of Franklin, attempted to introduce a bill to repeal the Jones act relieving railroads from the necessity of keeping up arc lights at street crossings, but Longworth moved that the measure be rejected because it did not refer to either of the subjects mentioned in the governor's message. He thought it would be an act of discourtesy to the governor to introduce the bill.

Senator Decker stated the people of the state were demanding the repeal of the bill and that they should be considered. He hoped the bill would be received. Senators Archer and Stillwell took the same view. The matter of the rejection of the measure was deferred until today.

Senator Hanna arrived here last evening. Foraker is expected later. Representative Buell left for Salem Tuesday night, having secured leave of absence until a week next Monday. The senator says he came merely to discuss the code and will be here but a short time.

William Horne, who has been a resident of Salem for 36 years, stopped off at the state capital yesterday while going home from Indiana, where he attended a reunion of his old regiment, the Fiftieth Indiana infantry. The command met at Whitehall. It was the first time Mr. Horne had met his comrades since the close of the war.

An "apple congress" is to be held in St. Louis in November. Its object is to encourage orcharding and to extend knowledge of the subject. Such a congress would not be a bad idea in Columbiana county, which is right in the fruit belt, and where the very best of apples can be produced, perhaps with as little labor as anywhere on earth. Farmers have found by experience that they need mutual aid in ascertaining the true value of their crop and in exchanging the latest cultural facts. Properly speaking there can be no "glut" of apples when there are nearly 80,000,000 people at home craving them and all Europe is ready to buy them at good prices. What is called "glut" is merely imperfect distribution. The apples produced in this country have become famous throughout the world, and by proper attention to their cultivation and sale, farmers will soon be enabled to reap large profits from them. The matter has received less attention than its importance warrants, and the coming congress will do a good work if it awakens the producers to their opportunities.

The city council and the mayor are to be commended for their efforts to have the ordinances regulating railway traffic in the city enforced. The Horn switch, though very necessary to the business interests of the city, is a danger spot and too many precautions cannot be taken to prevent accidents in running freight cars over it.

Sam Small, temperance lecturer, is reported to have confessed that he was drunk at Bratteleboro, Vt., and could not lecture. "I have no excuse to offer," he says. Right you are, Samuel. Men who get drunk have been framing excuses since the world began, but a reasonable excuse has never been found.

Customs receipts under the Dingley law are greater than they were last year and current figures of government revenue and expenditures show that the increase is needed. The Dingley law has proved itself to be a masterpiece of practical statesmanship.

The production of precious metals is still far from being the most profitable industry in the country. The United States produced only $78,000,000 worth of gold and $33,000,000 worth of silver last year.

The war game seems to be more expensive than interesting. Still it is probably necessary to give the tar something to do occasionally or Jack would speedily become a dull boy.

Interest in the coming Democratic state convention is a minus quantity. The same will be the case with the Democratic campaign.

Mount Pelee, like Bryan, cannot drop the erupting habit, even after it has done all the damage that seemed possible.

Col. Watterson is as vehement in his denunciation of Grover Cleveland as if the ex-president were a candidate for office.

Having failed to get the executive's orders to go to the Philippines, General Miles will now go under his own.

President Roosevelt has been praising Tom Reed and is now solid with his Maine constituents forevermore.

Trusts continue to multiply in Great Britain, despite the claim that protective tariff fosters them.

The head of the army and the navy attracts vastly more attention in the east than all the warships.

President Roosevelt favors letting the trusts live so long as they behave themselves.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, Galesburg, Ill.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, recent superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-Seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's, as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY.

Peruna never fails to prevent nervous prostration if taken in time.

general traffic. F. E. Grosshans was present, and stated that Mr. McKinnon would be willing to build the bridge and place monument stones in position, and on the strength of this promise the plat was accepted.

Three bids had been received for the furnishing of street signs, and upon opening them it was found that the one submitted by George M. Adam, of this city, was much the cheaper. Two others were opened, both from out of town firms, but the council favored Mr. Adams' sample, it being deemed much more desirable on account of the size of the letter. Mr. Adams' figure was 33 1-3 cents each delivered or 46 cents placed in position. The order was given for 1,000 signs, and the contractor will place them upon the corners.

A communication was received from the hospital association with reference to the acceptance of its plat of lots on the Calcutta road. The letter was signed by W. A. Calhoun, superintendent of the hospital, and stated if the council would accept the addition at once the association would bind itself to stand good for the grading when the council at any time may direct the same to be done. The letter covered the same question that was raised in the McKinnon addition. The lots had but recently been laid out, and it being the desire of the association to realize on them as speedily as possible, it was impossible to do any grading before the plat was accepted. The members thought the guarantee was sufficiently binding, and when the vote was taken it showed every member in favor of complying with the request.

Solicitor McGarry informed the council that a dispute had arisen among several of the residents of Grant street over the amount of paving they would have to pay for. The case he desired to cite was that of Baz Rowe, who had let the contract for laying a sidewalk at his property. He had paid for that portion of the pavement which extends past his property line and forms the corner. He found out a little later that it was the city's place to pay for this work, and now a law suit was apparently unavoidable. Mr. Barlow was very well posted on the matter and explained that the engineer had instructed Rowe to let the contract in the manner followed out by him. Barlow stated it was all the engineer's fault, and when someone laughed he rmarked in stern tones: "You needn't laugh, this is no laughing matter; it's strictly business." The engineer will look after the tangle.

Mr. Peach presented a motion to order the residents of Chestnut street from Pleasant street to its terminus to pave their sidewalks. The city had graded the street for their accommodation, and it was now time they do some paving. The motion prevailed.

Right at this point the council devoted considerable time to a discussion of the roller question. The city at one time owned a roller, or part of one. Contractor Rinehart had asked permission to have the machine repaired. The request was grante and the contractor expended something like $36 on repairs. He has had possession of the roller ever since. Mr. Bullock explained it was now in Wellsville. He thought it was needed here, and moved the street commissioner be instructed to have the roller returned to the city at once. Mr. Peach argued against the motion, but the majority of the members thought Rinehart had probably used the apparatus long enough to pay for any outlay he may have made years ago. The roller belonged in this city and the motion carried, Mr. Peach alone voting no.

Mr. Johnston reported the committee appointed to buy a team of horses had succeeded in securing one, paying therefor $225. The committee, which is made up of Johnston, Peach and Marshall, was continued with instructions to match up the team.

The sidewalk in front of the Myers and Metz properties on Fifth street had not been laid acccording to the instructions of the engineer, and Mr. Bullock moved the latter officer be instructed to relay it. President Nice wanted to know who was going to pay the bill. Bullock supposed the city would, but Nice did not agree with him. The president said: "If that sidewalk is not as it should be the engineer is responsible. The resolution to improve sidewalks distinctly states the work shall be done under the supervision of the city engineer, and if there is extra expense connected with this matter the paid employes of this city, who are responsible for the error, will pay the bill. The engineer has a good bond and can be made to pay. You can make the change if you like, but the city will not pay for it, I tell you that."

There remarks were made in an emphatic manner, and no one doubted that he meant what he said. Those who had interested themselves sufficientiy to investigate thought it had been the contractors who were responsible, and since payment for the improvement had been withheld the engineer was instructed to have the Rineharts do the work over again.

A petition was presented asking that 130 feet on Peach alley be paved. The property owners had signed the petition waiving all rights and agreeing to pay all the expense of the work. The request was granted.

Mr. Johnston made mention of the conduct of the men in charge of the shifting engine in the upper yards. Mayor Davidson made a few telling remarks, and he, with the marshal, will enforce the law prohibiting flying switches in the corporation.

McConnell stated school would start next week, and there was a foot bridge crossing Tanyard run near the West End pottery that ought to be repaired. There were several hundred school children who attended the Sixth street school, all of whom used the bridge. The short cut saved several hundred yards of a walk. He moved the street commissioner be ordered to make the needed repairs. The motion was adopted.

After an invitation to participate in the Labor day parade had been accepted by the council, adjournment was taken at 10:35.

WELLSVILLE

PAID FIREMEN

Mayor Fogo Desires to See An Up-to-Date Department in Wellsville.

Mayor W. L. Fogo is at the head of a project to establish a combination paid fire department and street gang here. He states that when the city bought the building at the corner of Fifth and Main streets it should have bought it for city purposes alone, instead of allowing other people to rent rooms in it. The mayor states that the building must have been purchased as a source of revenue which should not have been the case. He thinks that the water works office shuld be where the Bell telephone office is and that a hospital and a small cell for female prisoners should be where the water works office is. He thinks that sleeping apartments for a paid fire department and street gang should be where the Columbiana county telephone office now is and that a brass pole should be run from the second floor to the fire department on the first floor directly beneath, making fine fire department quarters.

The Columbiana county telephone company will either have to pay an increase of $5 per month or vacate the room which it occupies. It is predicted by city officials that the company will vacate. This will give the council a chance to take up the mayor's scheme. Mr. Fogo recently made the remark that the city ought to buy horses for the hose wagon and hook and ladder, and stable them in the rear of the hose room. He said that the city would then have a first class fire department and would also have horses which it could use in cleaning the streets.

A suggestion of this matter will probably be made to the council soon as something will have to be done at once relative to cleaning the streets. They are at present in a filthy condition.

Rural Route From Wellsville.

That a rural free delivery is soon to be established leading leading out of this city is now an assured fact. The postmaster has received notice that an agent will be at the postoffice tomorrow for the purpose of investigating the proposed establishment of a rural delivery route. An examination of a carrier and the establishment of an eligible register for free delivery service will be arranged. It is expected that there will be at least twenty-five applicants on deck tomorrow morning. The farmers near the city are very enthusiastic over the matter.

Following the talk a social session was held which was thoroughly enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

BUT ONE AFFIDAVIT

For the Position of Carrier on the New Rural Delivery Route.

Special Examiner Agent George Pate, of the postoffice department, conducted the examination for the carriers for the free rural delivery route to the north from this city yesterday afternoon. Only one applicant appeared. The papers are being forwarded to Washington and the appointment of the carrier will have to be made from that place.

Examiner Pate states that the route will make a short circuit through the farming district to the north of the city. It is for the purpose of giving free delivery to the district and the carrier will not carry the mail to the rural postoffices. He expects that a number of other rural routes will soon be laid out in Columbiana county.

Dennison, Ohio.

Life Plant Co.

Messrs:—LIFE PLANT is a wonder cure!—After a siege of ten years of that dread disease, Catarrh of the head, and the failure of all other treatments, I was induced by my employer, Mr. C. W. Bell of this place, dealer in groceries, to try LIFE PLANT. The first bottle gave relief, and when I had taken two more, was free from and cured of Catarrh. I write you the above and hope you will publish it for the benefit of those who are suffering from the effects of that dread disease. LIFE PLANT is a great remedy. Yours Respectfully,

FRED KNAUS.

Mrs. Rev. J. C. Castle, of Smith's Ferry, Penn., writes:—After suffering for about thirty years with Catarrh I believe I am entirely cured by the use of a few bottles of LIFE PLANT.

Mr. F. Hurst, father of Hurst Brothers, Grocers, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says:—

A member of my family for six years or more, has had a severe case of Catarrh in the head and throat, causing nervous prostration, with so much pain and roaring in the head, that the hearing had become materially affected, the stomach deranged and the appetite gone, and with a feeling of prostration and lassitude. Was cured by the use of LIFE PLANT more than a year ago and the trouble has not returned.

New Philadelphia, O., April 25, 1900.

Messrs:—I was attacked last August with a very serious and painful form of stomach trouble which gave me no rest by day and very little sleep at night. I used numerous remedies without any beneficial results. I was unable to do any kind of work. I was in constant misery with pain in stomach, which was increased, even by a slight pressure. For months I could not take any kind of food without suffering severe pain. This condition continued until I commenced to use LIFE PLANT. I have taken six bottles and am now a well man, can do a full day's work, eat all kinds of food and feel no inconvenience.

Yours etc., Frederick Dubaugh.

These cases and hundreds of others were permanently cured by LIFE PLANT, after all other remedies failed. If you have Cattarh in any form and are not cured after giving LIFE PLANT a fair trial, your money will be refunded.

ROOSEVELT HISTORIC

President Slept in Room Made Famous by Great Statesman.

HIS ENUNCIATIONS OF THE DAY

Not too Great to Renew His Acquaintance with a Cow Puncher on His Ranch—Conspicuous Among His New England Hosts Were Congressman Littlefield and Governor Hill.

Augusta, Me., August 27.—President Roosevelt yesterday passed through three states, delivered eight speeches. At Haverhill, Mass., the crowds overrode the police and surrounded the president's carriage, making it difficult for it to advance. As the president was about to board his car at South Lawrence, Mass., the leader of the band stepped up and made himself known to him. He said his name was Panan, a former cow puncher, and barber at Medura, N. D., where the president's ranch is located. The president immediately recognized him and greeted him as an old friend. The man said to him: "You said to me to get married and settle down and I him jointly with W. Arnett, an In which afforded the president no little amusement.

Conspicuous among those who boarded the train at Old Orchard to extend a welcome to the president was Congressman Littlefield, of Rockland. His visit was brief, and the conversation turned on other subjects than trusts.

The day was a particularly hard one on the president, but he gave slight signs of fatigue. Last night he was the guest of Governor Hill. The Governor's house has become historic because of the fact that it was the home of James G. Blaine, and the president occupied last night the identical bedroom used by that statesman.

Sacramento, Cal., August 27.—The Republican state convention yesterday adopted a platform deploring the death of President McKinley. The administration of President Roosevelt was endorsed and he was especially thanked for his support of measures peculiarly beneficial to the interests of the Pacific coast, such as the reclamation of arid lands, the exclusion of Chinese and the isthmian canal legislation.

The convention endorsed the "firm but enlightened policy pursued in the Philippines, which has secured peace in the islands," and urged that "Contention over our policy in the Philippines should now cease, and the beneficent plans of the civil government be given the united and cordial support of all the people."

The convention recommends that liberal pension provisions be made for the soldiers and widows of the late civil war, and of the war with Spain.

On trusts the convention expresses itself as follows: "We condemn all conspiracies and combines to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production, or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers and all who are engaged in industry and commerce, and we approve and commend the efforts of President Roosevelt to enforce the laws against illegal combinations in restraint of trade and pledge him our hearty support in all his efforts to protect the people from all oppressive combinations of capital."

STILL PLAYING AT WAR.

Army of Defense Bristles Itself Over Approach of Imaginary Foe.

Newport, R. I., August 27.—The warming up exercises of the army of the defense of this vicinity became quite brisk yesterday, with almost continuous target practice from daylight to dark and a general alarm over an imaginary foe this evening.

Last night, shortly before 8 o'clock, came the roll of the drum and the scurry of troops to the parapets. Searchlight practice was kept up for some time after. The little flying squadron of torpedo boats arrived early this morning from the eastward

ENGLAND'S NEW BURDEN.

Though Boers Surrender, Troops Are Needed in the Transvaal.

Johannesburg, August 27.—A strong force of British troops has been dispatched to the western border of the Transvaal, ostensibly to relieve troops ordered to India, but it is currently reported that this step is taken owing to disturbances among the natives. Rumors are also current here of an intention to annex or establish a protectorate in Swaziland, where a strong force of constabulary is now posted.

Reading's Private Engine Wrecked.

Reading, Pa., August 27.—The Reading Railroad company's private engine, the Ariel, was wrecked in a cut at MortonVille, three miles south of Coatesville, on the Wilmington & Northern railroad, at noon yesterday. It jumped the track while going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. General Superintendent W. A. Garrett and Superintendent James Turk, of the Reading and Columbia division, of this city, were hurled to the floor. John H. Bradford, the engineer, and George W. Rockthasel, the fireman, were pinned fast in the wreck, and both were considerably injured and scalded. Garrett and Turk, though cut and bruised, were able to walk.

TWO FLED TO DEATH

LOST CONTROL OF MACHINE RESULTS IN FATALITIES.

Priest Among Those Hurt—Party Out for Pleasure, Meets Serious Mishap.

Long Branch, N. J., August 27.—Four persons went flying down an embankment with a big Rhodersnyder machine at Elberon shortly after 2 p. m., yesterday afternoon with fatal results. The dead are:

Frank J. Matthews, of eJrsey City, 40 years old.

Mrs. Cobb, of Richmond, Va., 32 years old.

The injured are:

Mrs. Louis Pizzini, at the Monmouth Memorial hospital suffering from a fractured leg and shock.

Rev. Father Grant, of the Paulist Fathers, New York, who injured his leg and is also suffering from shock.

Rudolph Meyer, the chauffeur, who escaped with an injured leg.

The five occupants of the big machine were moving toward Ocean avenue when the accident happened. They were out for a pleasure trip, having come from Deal, where Mr. Matthews has a summer home. Mr. Matthews was in charge of the machine, which was a new one, having been purchased a few days ago at a cost of $9,000. The chaffeur was occupying his seat on the step.

Where the road passes over the tracks of the New York & Long Branch railroad is a most dangerous spot, and care is always exercised by drivers. The tracks of the Atlantic Coast trolley road are first crossed. After crossing the trolley tracks Mr. Matthews lost control of his machine. William H. Havens, who is a gardener for C. C. Minzesheimer, of Bath avenue, was on the street when Mr. Matthews and his party approached. He noticed that the big machine was swerving and in his efforts to get out of the way he was run into and knocked down, but not seriously hurt.

The chaffeur was on the step, and seeing the accident was sure to come jumped and saved his life. The tracks of the New York & Long Branch rail road are below at a distance of 35 feet. The railing gave way to the pressure of the big machine, which turned a somersault as it went down. Mr. Matthews was underneath the wreck and was pinioned fast. His death was almost instantaneous. Mr. Matthews' hip was broken as was one of his legs.

The dead body of Mr. Matthews was at once removed from the tracks and taken to the morgue of Hyers Flock, where it is now being prepared for burial. The central train, due at Long Branch at 2:30, was approaching at the time of the accident, and had it been delayed a few minutes would have crushed into the party. As it was the two injured women were taken aboard and conveyed on stretchers to the hospital. The unfortunate women were sisters, being residents of Richmond, Va. Mrs. Cobb lingered until a little before 5 o'clock, when she died. She suffered internal injury.

The party left the Holloway inn a few minutes before th tragedy for a pleasure trip. Father Grant escaped serious injury. He was taken to his room at the Hathway inn, where he is being attended by Dr. J. H. Bryan. Mrs. Pizzini is resting well and will recover. Mr. Matthews has been president of the National Realty company, of Jersey City.

Sam Had No Excuse.

Brattleboro, Vt., August 27.—The collapse of the Rev. Sam Small, the convened in Asociation hall this was to speak for the "No License-Local Option party" here last night, by Rev. Mr. Small's own admission was due to intoxication. Mr. Small says: "I was drunk. I have no excuse to offer."

Aunt and Niece Asphyxiated.

New York, August 27.—Mrs. Josephine Vollmer, 51 years old, and her 12-year-old niece, Mary Miller, were found dead in bed at their home yesterday. They had been asphyxiated by illuminating gas. NO ONE KNEW JONES

Chicago Again Comes to the Center With the Usual Old Murder Mystery.

HE HAD A NEPHEW WITH HIM

This Person Caused Rumor to be Circulated That Aged Man Was Dead, But Neighbors& Were Ignorant of Funeral Obsequies.

Chicago, August 27.—Peculiar circumstances surrounding the reported death of Philetus Jones, represented as a Boston millionaire and engaged in a large real estate deal in Chicago, came to the notice of the police yesterday. Notices in last Saturday's papers told of the sudden death of Mr. Jones from heart disease, at the residence of a nephew, on Astor street, but neither the name of the nphew nor the street number was given. The police have found no one here who knew Mr. Jones excepting John A. I. Lee, through whom, as agent, Mr. Jones was reported to be negotiating the purchase of certain property.

By Mr. Lee it was said that the body had been shipped to Boston, but no record of the death can be found in the health department offices here, nor have the officials issued a permit for the removal of the body from the state. Lee says that Mr. Jones was accompanied by a nephew, Mr. Alton by name. Mr. Lee says that an agreement to purchase the property within a specified time was signed by Jones and that on August 23 he received a note from Alton announcing the death of Jones, in which it was said the body would be taken to Boston and that after the funeral Alton would return and complete the purchase.

Lee said Mr. Jones was a tall man with gray hair, mustache and beard He was 73 years old. The police learned that the house at 142 Astor street, in which Lee said Jones had lived, had been sold recently by the former owners to a stranger. The doors and windows of the house were locked, and it bore every evidence of having been closed for the summer. Neighbors said they did not know the new occupants of the house, but they were positive no funeral had been held there, and that no body had been taken away unless it had been done secretly. The detectives will investigate further the sale of the Astor street residence, and if shall be found to have been sold to Jones, it may be broken into and searched.

D. R. Thomas, an attorney, says that Lee was indebted to him for money loaned, legal fees and office rent, and to satisfy this debt Lee had assigned $1,100 of a commission to be received in the Jones real estate deal. The police have a theory that Philetus Jones is a myth.

REBELS ARE IN POWER.

Ciudad Bolivar in Hands of Revolutionists—Blame Put on British Government.

Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar is still in the power of the revolutionists. The town was fired upon day and night by the gunboats Bolivar and Restaurador, which attempted to land forces to re-occupy the place. About 600 shells were fired into the city. When the ammunition of the Restauruador was exhausted, she left for La Guaira to obtain additional supplies, after which the bombardment will be resumed.

There are no foreign warships in the Orinoco river to protect the interests of the powers, and the British government is being blamed in certain quarters for abandoning the 3,000 subjects of Great Britain who reside in the district of Ciudad Bolivar.

THE GIRL IN GREEN.

We have seen the maid attired
All in red from top to toes;
We have seen her dressed in pink and white
And rivaling the rose;
We have seen the blue and purple,
But the latest thing we've seen
In the way of palpitations
Is the maiden dressed in green!

Hat, waist, skirt, shoes, gloves and belt, all
Of the purest shamrock hue,
With perhaps a dainty touch here
Of a little greenish blue,
And she musically brushes
All the dying fashions by,
With a verdant little twinkle
In her little greenish eye!

See her reigning on the boardwalk!
See her sailing up the street,
With a lot of fawning greenies
At her dainty green shod feet!
And exultant nature loudly
Warbles from the spreading tree,
"There she goes—the girl that gushes—
And she's patterned after me!"

Hail the newest thing in crazes!
Crown the latest color queen!
We're prepared to pass the laurels
To the giddy girl in green;
Yet in town or in the country
Or the seashore's sheltered nooks,
Paste this tip where you can see it:
"She's less verdant than she looks!"

Willing to Conform.

The rear seat in the open street car was comfortably filled already when the cheerful looking young man with the blond hair squeezed himself down between two portly consumers of nicotine.

"It seems to me," observed one of them presently, "that when there are plenty of other seats in the car it's an imposition for a man who isn't smoking to crowd in among the smokers."

"It isn't my fault that I'm not smoking," replied the blond young man, with his most engaging smile. "If you have another cigar in your pocket, I'll be glad to join you."

It was a superb exhibition of gall, but he got the cigar.—Chicago Tribune.

NEAR HIS OLD HOME

Commanding General of the Army Speaks Felicitiously in Old New England.

THE RECEPTION TENDERED HIM

Worcester, Mass., August 27.—A magnificent reception was tendered Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles last night by Post 10, G. A. R. Eight hundred persons greeted the commanding general of the army. General Miles responded to the call for a speech, expressing his appreciation of the honor done him, and said that it was a pleasure to attend such a gathering in Worcester, which he considered as almost his home, as he was born and brought up so near.

After the reception he was entertained by the Worcester club, and then was driven to the state armory, where he saw a drill by Company A, of the State Militia, and in response to a call by Captain Edwin Barret, spoke to the members of the company. He left the city on the midnight train for West Point, where he goes to join his wife, who is paying a short visit to their son.

LOCKED UP IN CAR.

Alleged Strike Breakers Say They Were Unwarrantedly Detained in Cars.

Omaha, Neb., August 27.—Ten warrants were served on President Burt, of the Union Pacific railroad company, yesterday afternoon, charging him jointly with W. Arnett, an Indianapolis labor agent, with false imprisonment. The warrants were sworn out by ten men who allege they were hired by Arnett to work in the shops of the Union Pacific road at Denver. The warrants charge that each of the men was imprisoned in cars, and that they were not given their liberty until they reached the shop yards of the company in this city. President Burt acknowledged service, and filed a bond for his appearance in court tomorrow.

Lewis Lord, a member of the party, and who swore to the charges in one of the warrants, said the party had been employed by Arnett to go to work in the Union Pacific shops at Denver. He says that when they reached Council Bluffs they were locked in the cars, and armed guards were placed at the doors to prevent their escape. He says they were kept in the car until they reached the shop yards in this city, when they were given their liberty. Lord claims that some of the party were married men and left positions to take others here at better wages than they had been receiving, and were told that no strike existed on the road.

BOAST BROUGHT ARREST.

Andrew Haskins Got Himself Into Trouble by Proclaiming Slaying Ability.

Pittsburg, August 27.—Boasting in Philadelphia that he had killed a woman and would kill another, Andrew Haskins, a negro, gave the Pittsburg police a clew that led to his arrest Tuesday. The murder he bragged of was committed in Allegheny county, and last evening Detective James Steele, of Allegheny, went to Philadelphia with a coroner's commitment, charging Haskins with the murder of Ella Dennis, a negress, at Dooker's Hollow, October 5, 1899.

Haskins has been sought for by Pittsburg officers since the crime was committed, but although he has been heard from frequently he eluded arrest. Moday Superintendent Henry Muth, of Allegheny, received a telegram from Harry M. Quirk, superintendent of police of Philadelphia, saying that Haskins was in that city and had boasted of killing a woman. October 8, 1899, a coroner's jury held an inquest in the case of Ella Dennis and recommended that Haskins be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Tuesday morning Superintendent Muth telegraphed to Philadelphia the details of the affair, and last evening received another communication saying that Haskins was under arrest. The prisoner will be brought to Pittsburg.

The murder of Ella Dennis created a considerable sensation. She was 30 years old and lived near Turtle Creek. She was found in her home October 1 with evidences of having been beaten with a club. She was removed to the Woodville County home, where October 5 she died. Her story was that Haskins was her sweetheart. He quarreled with her and then left the house. Procuring a club, he returned and renewed the quarrel.

K&K BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. AMID FLORAL BEAUTY YOUNG LIVES UNITED IN HOLY MATRIMONY

Flaccus, of Wheeling, and Miss Jeannette Bailey, of Wheeling.

The four bridesmaids wore beautiful gows of pale blue muslin tucked and elaborately trimmed with white lace medallions. Each young lady wore a picture hat of the same hue as her gown and trimmed in forget-me-nots and each carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas tied with white satin ribbon.

Rev. Mr. Jordan and Rev. Mr. Gorrell followed and took their places just inside the bower. Then came the groom and his best man, Mr. Jefferson De Mont Thompson, of New York.

Following came Miss Ann Lee as maid of honor, who looked charming in a robe of Irish point lace over white chiffon drop skirt, which in turn was over a foundation of taffeta of the same color. She carried a shower bouquet of La France roses and wore a large picture hat of white tulle trimmed with a long white ostrich plume.

The ushers were in advance of the wedding party. They were Colonel Wilbur C. Brown, of New York; Mr. Earl Munson, of Wellsville; Mr. Harold Marshall, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Will Taylor, of this city. They, as well as the groom and best man, wore gray frock coats with trousers to match and gray suede gloves.

The bride, looking handsome, entered upon the arm of her father. She was magnificently attired in a gown of white satin crepe de chine, trimmed in rose point lace. The skirt, which was made with a habit back, had a full court train. The skirt was tucked in clusters of five-inch tucks, which were laid on the bias. A graduated flounce of the crepe de chine, edged with three folds, lent graceful curves to the skirt, which also had a deep yoke of the rose point. The waist was tucked solid with diagonal inch tucks. The yoke, which was quite deep and extended well down on the shoulders, was of the point lace with the rose designs appliqued over white chiffon. The sleeves, which were also tucked, had a large puff at the elbow, a tight under-sleeve finished with loops of the rose point forming a small cuff. White suede gloves were worn. The bridal veil was of white tulle and extended to the floor in the front and to the tip of the long train at the back. This was held in place by a snowy airgrette and a diamond crown, the latter a gift of the groom. The shoes were of white satin with large white rosettes.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was met by the officiating clergymen and the groom. The tableau at this point was most beautiful, and as the favorite Episcopal ceremony was being read the soft strains of "The Spring Song" and "In June" were played by the orchestra, making the ceremony still more impressive.

The final benediction ended and the usual congratulations offered the bridal party and guests partook of an elaborate wedding breakfast, served by Kuhn, of Pittsburg.

Mrs. Marshall, the mother of the bride wore a handsome gown of tan embroidered batiste over pink silk with real lace yoke, and elaborately trimmed with lace throughout.

Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, mother of the groom, wore an elegant imported costume of white pineapple silk over taffeta of the same color. The gown was made in princess fashion, the waist and yoke being shirred. The yoke was of Point-de-Venice lace and hand embroidered. The skirt, which was entraine, had elaborate designs of the point lace and silk embroidery. The sleeves were short and the lace with deep graduated ruffles of the pineapple silk. Long openwork silk gloves were worn. Mrs. Stafford's hat was of white French chip, trimmed in maline and ribbon velvet and encircled by a large white ostrich plume. She carried a white feather boa and wore diamond ornaments.

The gifts, which were arranged in a room on the second floor, attracted every one. They were both numerous and elegant. The groom's gifts to his bride were a magnificient tiara of diamonds, weighing 4 carats, and a large gold locket with diamond setting. The parents' gift were the furnishing complete for one of the rooms in the Knowles residence. From the groom's mother, Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, came a chest of small silver containing a hundred pieces.

Among other gifts from out of town friends were: Silver bronze hanging chandelabra, old Dutch clock, C. T. Hard company; a four-foot brass candle stick holder, Miss Adelaide Flaccus, Wheeling; silver fern dish, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilmore, New York; silver celery dish, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, New York; cut glass bowl on a mirror stand, Miss Rodriguez, New York; rose bowl, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Georgetown; handsome jardinier, Mrs. James Goodwin, New York; Venetian glass berry bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Knowles, California; silver tea set, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, New York; cut glass celery dish, Mr. Earl Munsen, Wellsville; cherry clock with heavy trimmings, Senator and Mrs. Oliver S. Marshall, New Cumberland; picture, Dr. and Mrs. N. C. Johnson, Allegheny; brass wall-piece, Miss Jeanette Bailey, Wheeling; hand painted bread plate, Miss Helen Upson, Mancfield; silver bon-bon dish, Dr. and Mrs. Fowler, New York; hand painted bon-bon dich, Mr. Earl Munson, Wellsville; brass candle sticks, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dowling, London, O.; full set of linens with bride's initials embroidered, Mrs. M. M. Gardner; silver sardine fork, Miss Sarriora, New Orleans; Dr. and Mrs. H. Baer, a Verna marton chair; Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley, a handsome screen.

Last evening Miss Marshall entertained her brides' maids at 7 o'clock dinner at her home. At this time she presented each young lady with a very pretty rose gold brooch with pearl setting. Her present to the maid of honor was a gold chain with pearl drop pendant. Mr. Knowles also entertained the best man and ushers at dinner last evening at his home on Broadway. His gifts to them were pearl scarf pins, and to the best man a gold cigarette case.

About 75 relatives and friends of the young couple were present. Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, mother of the groom; Miss Roderiguez, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, and Col. Wilbur C. Brown, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bliss, and Miss Bliss, of Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Marshall, New Cumberland; Mr. A. E. Tennant, Pittsburg; Mr. James G. Marshall, New Cumberland; and the Misses Johnson, of Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles left on a special car, "The Arcadia," attached to the four train for an eastern trip, including New York, Babylon, L. Is., Shelter Island. The bride's traveling gown was a handsome creation of dark blue broadcloth, trimmed with Irish lace. She wore a large tan hat. In the special car with the bride and groom were: Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, Miss Rodringuez, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, returning to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles will be at home at their residence on Broadway after September 25.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Great Rush to Hookstown—Over 100 rigs bound for the Hookstown fair crossed the bridge this morning.

Made Him Settle—John Rinehart was in Ravenna yesterday afternoon, looking after Victor Austin, a young man who had skipped his board bill. A warrant was secured for his arrest and Mr. Rinehart was deputized to serve it. The young man was badly frightened and very willingly paid the amount due.

A Pleasant Affair—James Jackson, a dipper at the K. T. & K., gave a smoker last evening to his gentlemen friends, at his home on Waterloo street. The evening was spent in music and games and fine refreshments were served. About 25 young men were present and had a most enjoyable time.

The Country Jay—A very large crowd was in attendance at the lecture given by Rev. Barney Tompkins at the McKinley avenue union chapel last night. The subject was "A Jay From the Country," and was of a humorous turn. The lecture was greatly enjoyed, and it is likely the congregation will secure the speaker for another number at a later date.

Will Visit East Palestine—The regular weekly meeting of General Garfield camp, Sons of Veterans, was held in G. A. R. hall last evening. An invitation to pay a fraternal visit to the camp at East Palestine on September 8 was read and accepted. The members of the Salem camp will also be at East Palestine on that date, and it is expected that a large number will be present from this city.

Pastor Jordan's Return—Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, arrived in the city last evening for the epurpose of performing the ceremony at the Marshall-Knowles wedding today. Mr. Jordan states that he is enjoying his vacation immensely. He will leave again this evening to continue it. The improvements at the church are progressing rapidly, and it is announced that services will be held in the church one week from next Sunday, when the pastor will have returned home.

MATERIAL HARD TO GET

More Building Work Would Be in Progress But for This Fact.

"The only reason that ther are enot a great deal more improvements being made in East Liverpoool this summer is that it has been impossible to secure the material with which to do the work," said a prominent contractor of the city. "I know of several potteries that would have liked to make improvements, but could not do so for the reason that the contractors were unable to take up the work.

"It is now a little easier to secure material, but it is too late to begin any large improvement. I predict that next year will see another big revival in the building business, and that the contractors will be just as busy as they have been this season."

A manufacturing potter who heard these statements said they were correct. His firm had contemplated making a number of extensive improvements, but that the contractors could give no assurance when it could be finished, and the firm could not run the risk of having several of the departments of the plant idle for any length of time.

The brick for the new front of the K., T. & K. structure on Walnut street have at last arrived and the wall will be put up at once.

A Man's Hand Is Caught And Comes Near Being Severed at the Wrist.

Guy Gibbons, a mechanic employed at the Chester tin mill, had his left hand so badly injured shortly before noon today that 15 stitches were required to pull the flesh together.

Gibbons boarded at the Rowe restaurant on Washington street and this morning said that he was not going to work, but proposed to go to his home in Alliance for a few days. Shortly before noon Mr. Rowe was engaged in making some ice cream and Gibbons went to assist him. He accidentally had his hand caught in the machinery, which almost resulted in the hand being severed at the wrist. The injury was dressed by Dr. W. T. Norris.

AMID FLORAL BEAUTY YOUNG LIVES UNITED IN HOLY MATRIMONY

Elaborate and Impressive Ceremony at the Marshall-Knowles Nuptials in Chester Today at Noon.

Ever since the announcement of the engagement of Miss Alma Marshall, of the Southside, and Mr. Harold Homer Knowles, of this city, East Liverpool society has been more or less on the tiptoe of expectation regarding the ceremony. That it would be elaborate and elegant no one doubted. A recent death in Mr. Knowles' family was all that prevented the occasion from being one of the most brilliant that the city has ever witnessed. As it was, though the ceremony was robbed of much of its splendor, and although none were present save the relatives and most intimate friends of the two families, it was one of the most beautiful home weddings which has occurred here in some time.

The marriage ceremony was performed at high noon today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, of Chester, by Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. J. W. Gorrell, pastor of the Christian church.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall was a mass of floral beauty. Flowers were used in great profusion, and the entire plan was ingeniously and delicately wrought by a local florist. In the large double parlors the decorations were in green and white. The mantles were banked with white roses and astors. At the north end of the room, and near two windows which overlook the placid waters of the Ohio, a bower had been formed of luxuriant tropical plants.

This entrancing spot was made the marriage altar. The decorations in the south parlor consisted of tropical plants and pink roses, while those in the dining room, which was decorated in pink and white, were so arranged as to make a delicate and pleasing effect.

The sonorous notes of the Lohengrin march, as played by Miss Burtt Johnson, a friend of the bride, announced the approach of the bridal party, which formed in the spacious reception hall. First came the ribbon bearers, Misses Nell Baillie, of Pittsburg, and Nina Lee, of this city, who advanced bearing with them the ribbon which formed the aisle through which the bridal party passed. Then came the other bridesmaids, Miss Adelaide

The present management of the News Review, since assuming control of the paper on March 1, 1901, has constantly been enlarging its facilities and improving the paper. How the circulation has grown since new life was infused into the paper; how it was more than trebled in one short year are matters with which its readers are well acquainted. But very few persons are aware of the extent of the change wrought in the mechanical department of the paper. The proprietors have constantly been adding new machinery and during the present month have installed an up-to-date press which prints 5,000 to 6,000 papers an hour. It is a marvel of mechanism and well worth inspection.

The News Review now has its plant in most excellent shape, and is the best equipped of any newspaper office in the county for the publication of a daily paper. It has also one of the largest and best arranged job offices in eastern Ohio. That the public may know what has been done and those who are not familiar with the various processes by which an up-to-date daily newspaper is produced, the publishers invite all readers, patrons and friends to make a visit to the News Review office some time Friday afternoon or evening of this week. The entire plant will be open to inspection from 3 to 10 p. m. The wonderful Mergenthaler typesetting machines—one of the marvels of the age—will be in operation; the new press will be set going and papers run upon it, and the job rooms will also be open for visitors' inspection. A cordial invitation is extended to the public, both ladies and gentlemen, to call during the hours mentioned. Newspaper men of this city and of the county and neighborhood are especially invited. The News Review is ready for a house-warming and wants to meet all its friends, and to show them just how the oldest and best daily paper in Columbiana county is made. Children, unless accompanied by their parents, will not be admitted.

NEW OBJECTION MADE TO THE NASH CODE FOR THE CITIES OF OHIO

It Is Contended That It Would Be Expensive For Small Municipalities—Other Plans Suggested.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 27.—While he does not wish to be regarded as opposing Governor Nash, Representative Daniel Crist, of Columbiana county, questions very much whether the form of government provided for small cities under the administration plan, would be practicable. He fears it would increase their expenses many fold. To his mind the proper solution of the problem would be to submit to the voters, next year, the question of amending the constitution, to provide for the classification of cities on a basis of population. It is beginning to dawn upon the legislators that government for the lesser municipalities under the code, as introduced, will be an expensive luxury, the knowledge of which is making new converts to the idea that a constitutional amendment is the only way out of the difficulty.

A desire to obviate the imposition of unnecessary expense upon the lesser municipalities is what moved the governor in his advocacy of the plan to make 15,000 the dividing mark between cities and villages. It was quite apparent to him that the lower the line was put, the greater would be the expense of the operation of the law in the muicipalities desiring to remain in the city class. Speaker McKinnon thinks the constitution should be amended to permit classification of cities, and that there should be four grades, based on populations of 5,000, 25,000, 100,000 and all above 100,000. Then, he says, there should be a sufficient variety of governmental systems to fully meet the diversified necessities of every municipal division in the state. He thinks that a resolution providing for this should be submitted to the voters in 1903, so that the next general assembly could be able to establish a stable and popular form of administration for the various classes of cities.

It is astonishing how the members are falling into line with this suggestion; yet it is doubtful if this agitation will lead to the adoption of the plan. The governor would hardly entertain for a moment a proposition to lay his bill aside. Messrs. Crist and Buell have been asked to meet the citizens of the leading cities in Columbiana

RAILROAD MEN CHARGED WITH DEFYING CITY LAWS

The Pennsylvania company was the recipient of a considerable amount of anything but complimentary remarks from the members of council at the meeting last evening. The remarks were occasioned when Mr. Johnson spoke of the manner in which trainmen switched their cars on horn switch. He stated that on several occasions lately pedestrians had had very narrow escapes.

A general discussion of the action of the trainmen was taken up with the result that the mayor and marshall were given specific instructions to arrest the conductor of any train when he was found making a "flying switch."

Mayor Davidson took the floor and stated that he had already had a session with one of the minor railroad officials. It was only yesterday that an official had come to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant against two small boys for jumping on trains.

The mayor certainly gave the officials a straight talk from the shoulder. He stated that he was sorry that he was compelled to make the complaint, yet the trainmen never attempted to obey the ordinances in the manner of switching cars. The mayor stated that the company would block sidewalks and then, if anyone climbed over the cars, the officials were asked to arrest them.

The same conditions also exist at the crossings along the main tracks of the company through the city. Ordinances have been passed to prohibit unnecessary whistling and the company never even made an attempt to obey it.

The city official state that the preemptory order to inforce the ordinannee proventing flying switches will be enforced to the letter and that arrests will follow any violation. Unless the trainmen change their tactics it will not be long until the officials will have cause for action. The council has done well to take this matter up as all who have to cross the horn switch during the day have seen numerous narrow escapes if they have not had them themselves.

CITY ENGINEER SCORED BY NICE

Who Says City Will Not Pay For Relaying of Sidewalks on Fifth Street.

CITY WANTS ITS PROPERTY

Contractor Rinehart Must Return the Roller at Once—Two Plats of New Additions Accepted—Street Signs Have Been Ordered.

If the meeting of city council was lengthy, it can also be said that a vast amount of important business was transacted. But one member was absent, Dr. Marshall, of the Fifth ward, being out of the city.

A report was made by the special committee which had been appointed to investigate and report upon the advisability of constructing a bridge to connect Eighth and Chestnut streets. Several matters were explained and the committee was continued.

The grading of Springdale street was brought up through a petition signed by all the property owners on the street. It was explained by Attorney Grosshans, who is one of the signers, that the improvement would not cost the city a cent. The residents simply desired that the work be done under the direction of the engineer and in the manner usually employed with reference to the payments. John Lutton had partially completed the work, but had thrown up the contract, and it was the desire of those owning the property to have the remainder of the grading done by McLaughlin Bros., the engineer to determine how much Lutton was entitled to be paid for. The request was granted.

The light committee recommended the placing of six of the small lights in the vicinity of Edgewood, where between 30 and 40 new houses had been built within the past few years. The recommendation was concurred in. Mr. Johnston stated a light was badly needed on Franklin street. This latter was referred to the light committee.

Chairman Barlow, of the wharf committee, asked that repairs be made at the Broadway wharf. A sewer at that point was in very bad shape, as was shown by an explanation from Wharfmaster McClure. An appropriation of $50 was made to have the repairs completed.

A petition was read asking that the plat of M. R. McKinnon's tenth addition to the city be accepted. Reference was made to the ordinance providing for street improvements, bridges and monument stones to the placed at street corners. The question was asked as to whether the requirements had been complied with. Messrs. Bullock and Johnston stated they had made a trip to the new addition during the afternoon, and that a considerable amount of work had been done. There was some difference of opinion on the question of accepting the plat, President Nice stating that he had looked over the ground and in his opinion the condition of the streets was in anything but a completed state. There was a deep ravine in the addition and this had not been bridged, nor had the grade on several of the streets been made to correspond with those on the other side of the Calcutta road. Some of the members were a little rusty on the requirements of the ordinance, and it was finally stated that all the ordinance required was for the owners of the new addition to make the streets passable for

SALINEVILLE'S CITY ATTORNEY WANTS THE CITY ENJOINED.

Culmination of a Dispute in Council Over Payment for Electric Lighting.

Salineville, August 27.—(Special)—There is a merry war on in the town council, which is split into two factions, pulling in opposite directions. It all arose over the electric lighting company's bills, certain councilmen contending that they were unreasonable and should not be paid.

The lighting bill for July was held over and hung up, but now an ordinance providing for its payment and also the August bill is pending and is now on its second reading.

The city solicitor, F. E. McCormick, will go to Lisbon today and endeavor to get an injunction issued, restraining the clerk from paying any money over to the light company. The light company has employed attorneys and a most interesting fight is promised.

A Late Start Home.

The last excursion train to Rochester which took the parties who were in attendance at the picnic at Rock Sprins park Tuesday did not leave the local station until 11 o'clock last night. A large number of the excursionists remained until the late train. The 7:33 train west was delayed for nearly an hour on account of the rush of traffic.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, Aug. 27—(Special)—Marriage licenses were issued as follows: Edgar S. Hawkins, of East Rochester, and Miss Nettie Myers, of Bayard; Andrew Miller and Miss Annie Smith, of Homeworth; Byron Shively, of Moultrie, and Miss Ada M. Bower, of New Chambersburg.

TWO WOMEN OF SALEM LEAVE HUSBANDS AND HOME

Salem, August 27.—Mrs. Adam Erbe and Mrs. Hiram Bourne, both of Broadway, took their bag and baggage Monday afternoon and suddenly left the city. It is alleged that their stay away from the city is likely to be permanent. Each woman has a little daughter and the children were taken along.

Domestic infelicity is assigned as a reason for the women thus breaking up their homes. It is said the husbands were aware of the plans of the women, and when they returned home from work last night found them gone. The women went to Cleveland from this city, and their destination after that is not made public.

Mr. Bourne and Mr. Erbe work at the pottery, and are industrious. They announce that they will sell their household goods soon. Mr. Bourne said it was true the women had gone for good. He said he had an idea where they went, but declined to state the place. He stated that in the event his wife should return she could not expect his support again.

The outcome of the matter will probably be two divorce suits filed by the deserted husbands.

Mr. Bourne was formerly a resident of East Liverpool, having resided for a number of years on Peake street, the second house north of Ogden street.

ON THE WAY TO THE FAIR

The Horse Reared, Young Lady Was Thrown Out And Buggy Broken.

Campbell Brown and Miss Elitha Cowles, the latter being a visitor to friends in this city from New Castle, met with a runaway accident just as they were starting for Hookstown this morning. The couple were in a runabout and the horse took fright at a train just as they were driving over the Broadway crossing.

The animal reared and came down straddling the shafts. Brown managed to alight to catch the horse's head before the vehicle turned over, but Miss Cowles was thrown out. The front axle of the vehicle was bent in such a manner that it had to be returned to the livery stable. As neither of the occupants was injured, another buggy was secured and the trip to the fair began over again.

Took Two to Jail.

Sheriff Leonard, who was in Wellsville, returned to Lisbon yesterday afternoon. He took with him Ellis Stoffel and Roy McCalmont, the two young men who were charged with entering and robbing Hale's confectionery store in Wellsville.

JUDGE HOADLY DEAD

Ex-Governor of Ohio Died Last Night at Watkins, N. Y.

Watkins, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Ex-Governor Hoadly, of Ohio, died here last evening. He and his family had been at Watkins for several weeks. The remains will be taken to Cincinnati for burial. George Hoadly was born in New Haven, Conn., July 31, 1826. He was educated at the Western Reserve college, studid law at Cambridge, Zanesville and Cincinnati and was admitted to the bar in the latter city in 1847.

In 1851 he was elected by the legislature as sole judge of the superior court of Cincinnati as originally constituted, and in 1855 city solicitor. In 1859 he was elected and in 1864 re-elected by the people one of the judges of the new superior court. Later he declined a position on the supreme bench. In 1866 he resigned as superior judge. He was a Republican until 1872 when he joined the Greeley movement. In October, 1883, Judge Hoadly was elected governor of Ohio, defeating Joseph B. Foraker by whom he was in turn defeated in 1885. Gov. Hoadly was one of the counsel which successfully opposed the project of cumpulsory reading of the bible in the public schools. In March, 1887, Gov. Hoadly removed to New York city and became the head of a law firm.

Col. W. C. Watson, of this city, was on Gov. Hoadly's staff. He had been state tobacco inspector under Gov. R. M. Bishop, an office created by the Grangers, being the first and only man to hold that position. The tobacco warehouse at Bellaire was constructed under his supervision. Knowing that the scheme would be a failure, Col. Watson resigned and recommended that the office be abolished. This was done, and remembering it, Gov. Hoadly, believing in honesty in official life, tendered him a place on his staff, and Col. Watson served during his term as aide de camp with the rank of colonel. He had previously served several years in the National Guard.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX

DEVELOPS AT THE RILEY HOME NEAR ROGERS.

A Son of the Former Victim Taken Ill of the Disease

Rogers, Aug. 27.—(Special)—Another case of smallpox has developed in the Roley family, the victim being Edwin, son of the former vicitm.

No alarm is felt, however, as the attending physician, Dr. S. K. Crawford, hesitated for several days before pronouncing the case smallpox on account of the very mild form in which the disease appeared. Dr. Crawford has the case well in hand, and does not hesitate to say there is no danger whatever of the disease spreading. The authorities have taken every precaution to prevent an epidemic, and there is no anxiety felt at this time. T. E. Roley, the man mho has been afflicted with the disease for some time is recovering rapidly, and is now out of danger. The mother, who has been ill for several days, and who was thought to be taking smallpox is now entirely out of danger, and will not take the disease.

AT THE AGE OF 95

Alexander Wells, of Wellsville, Visits Lisbon and Recalls Early Days.

Lisbon, Aug. 27—(Special)—Alex. Wells, of Wellsville, who is in his 95th year, is visiting at the home of his son, W. G. Wells, in this city. Mr. Wells is in the enjoyment of the best of health and told to a number of court officials this morning of his first remembrance of witnessing punishment by order of the court when the prisoner was given nine lashes on his back at the whipping post.

The court then was a log structure, located just west of the present building.

FLATTERING OFFERS COME TO MALEY

The Young Pitcher Gets Offers From Cincinnati and Boston.

HIS RECORD WAS WATCHED

And the Big League Teams Are Anxious That He Should Finish the Season With Them—He Has the Offers Under Consideration.

East Liverpool has another offer to put one of its base ball players in the big league. Lawrence Maley, the "boy" pitcher, who has been brought out in this city during the present season, last evening received a telegram from Joe Kelly, manager of the Cincinnati National league team, asking the Liverpool boy if he would finish the season with the aggregation.

As if the managers of the big teams allowed their minds to travel in the same channel, a letter was received this morning from the manager of the Boston National league team, asking Maley to finish the season with that team. The managers of the big league have in their hands a record of the work of Maley since he began playing with the East Liverpool team, and it was a study of this which caused the offer.

Maley was seen at his work at the Buckeye pottery this afternoon and stated that he had not as yet made up his mind whether or not he would accept either of the offers. He has a good paying position as mouldmaker, which he would probably lose if he left for five or six weeks.

However, if arrarngements can be made in regard to his position it is probable that he will accept one or the other of the offers. Maley is only 18 years of age, and a number of his friends have advised him to wait another year at least before branching out.

BITTEN BY A SPIDER

Sleeping Woman Attacked And Now Reported in a Serious Condition.

While lying asleep at her home at Salineville about a week ago, Mrs. Fannie Ware, daugnter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bertele, of this city, was bitten by a spider, and her condition this morning was thought to be serious.

Mrs. Ware was bitten on the arm, and it is now swollen to almost twice its size.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

HE WRITES OF FRAUD.

Jerome James, of Boston, in a recent issue of an eastern trade paper, writes as follows about the supposed frauds, relative to the undervaluation of imported crockery. It is indeed an interesting communication, and in part follows: "The question of fraud in the undervaluation of imports is important to all good citizens. The administrative sections of the tariff laws are made drastic to insure the effective collection of the revenue, and should be inforced to the extent of ferreting out and punishing those who seek to evade the proper payment of duties. Every honest and intelligent importer should co-operate with the domestic manufacturers, who compete against the foreign article, in securing honest work at the custom house; else the honest importer, when put in competition with the fraudulent one, would be put out of business and probably in the bankruptcy court. On Sunday last a New York paper had a startling piece of news about the discovery of fraud in the importation of pottery to the extent of millions; that it ran back for years, and fully twenty millions of dollars had been defrauded; all of which, if true, was alarming to those who believe in honest government.

"In the more than forty years I have been in the pottery business ther has been the periodical cry of undervaluation and fraud by importers in this line, and several important trials, the last one on English pottery, was in Cleveland's administration, when Daniel Manning was secretary of the treasury (as Secretary Shaw is now). All crates coming into the ports of New York and Philadelphia were held up pending the investigation, which covered several weeks, under Appraiser Moore, of Philadelphia, and it resulted in the complete vindication of the importers. Several years since, when hearings were had before the Ways and Means committee, the question of fraud by undervaluation came up, and the best statistics that were produced under Schedule B, pottery and glass revealed less than one per cent. undervaluation. When the former merchant appraiser system was in vogue I served many times as merchant appraiser with the United States appraiser, and when we dsagreed the Collector of the Port decided it; but the trails rarely revealed any important difference. When the "Moiety" law was in vogue the incentive to charge and prove fraud was greater than now, but the charges were usually based upon the suspicion of competitors. I have taken this space to resent the suspicion that is cast upon every importer by such gross charges as that in the New York paper of last Sunday, but which was neutralized by the prompt answer quoted above by Secretary Shaw of Washington. The United States Board of Appraisers are an efficient body, backed by the whole treasury and judicial departments of the Government. Let us trust that, notwithsatnding the temptation that follows an excessively high tariff on imports, the integrity and efficiency of the revenue will be maintained."

A SEVERE TEST.

In a recent issue of the London Pottery Gazette, there appeared the following: "One of the features of the present moment in the ceramic world is the continuous increase in the use of chromo-lithographic decoration on pottery. In transfers the progress has been great; today the productions are excellent, full of life and vigor, showing the touch of the skilled artist's hand, putting completely into the shade the crude printing and filling in which has so long held the market in on glaze work. The trasfers are also of equal value from the user's point of view. They wear as well as painted work, although some interested parties have circulated a report to the contrary. Those of us who are acquainted with the different methods know how absurd this idea is. The colors are the same. It is quite immaterial whether the colors are laid upon the ware with a brush or with a piece of paper; given a proper kiln fire the one is just as durable as the other. Some time ago a few of the principal potters, being anxious to determine the question, initiated and carried through a series of severe tests consisting of boiling, scrubbing, rubbing, etc., ware, and proved to their satisfaction that the transfers were most durable and in no way inferior to painted ware. The use of transfers will increase in the future and become the principal source of decoration for ware for useful purposes, a fact which our retail dealers will do well to bear in mind. For the present, these transfers are almost solely in enamel or on glaze-color; progress in the use of underglaze colors is very slow and tenative, but there is progress, and in time we believe the difficulties will be overcome."

They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise.

BITS FROM TRENTON.

Improvements are being made to the plant of the Trenton Fire Clay & Porcelain Co. A new stack and a couple of kilns are now in course of construction.

George Austin, formerly manager of a pottery in the city of Mexico, has accepted a position in the decorating department of the Old Greenwood pottery.

A new shape on cover pieces has been placed on the market in the dinner ware line by the Glasgow. It was designed by Howard B. Moses.

The Mercer Pottery Co., is getting out a new toilet set, and has several of the pieces finished. Those who have seen it declare the set will be popular.

The reports coming in from the representatives of the Trenton potteries now on the road seem to indicate that the stocks all over the country are exceedingly low and a heavy fall trade may be looked for.

The Old Greenwood pottery meets with great difficulty in getting hard coal to fire the kilns, and much inconvenience is caused thereby. Soft coal does not answer the purpose of firing vitrified china as it does in general ware so it is claimed.

Lou Brown, formerly traveling man for the Trenton Potteries Co., and now manager of the new Buffalo pottery, writes that the work on that plant is well under way and the first kiln will likely be fired about October 1. The output of the plant will be toilet, dinner and specialties.

JIGGERMEN'S MEETING.

The special meeting held by jiggermen's local No. 12 last evening was one of the most interesting that has been held for months. The attendence was much larger than usual, but this was due to the fact that some special matters were to be talked over, relative to the establishing of a uniform day's work. It will be remembered that the purpose of the special meeting was told exclusively in this paper Monday evening, and yesterday the story was read with interest. The matter of having the jiggermen place a limit on their work was discussed at length last evening, and resulted in a committee composed of John Reark, Frederick Sheedy, Charles Hanley, Lute Smith and Frank Gratton being appointed to investigate the question. As soon as the regular meeting adjourned, the special committee met and formed an organization, and it is thought they will be able to make some sort of a report of their work at their meeting next week. The question is a most interesting one and will be investigated thoroughly.

NEED WORKMEN HERE.

Good pottery workers experience no trouble at all in finding employment at New Castle, Pa. The potteries in that town have a rush of orders which will keep them busy for some time. The same conditions prevail in this city and it is no trouble for a good pottery workman to secure a good position right at home.

MACHINERY SHIPPED.

By the latter part of this week all the machinery for the pottery which is to be erected at Crooksville will have been completed at the Patterson foundry in this city. Part of the machinery has already been sent to Crooksville and the remainder will be shipped about the first of the coming week.

GOOD TRADE IN SIGHT.

In a recent interview Charles Howell Cook, the well-known manufacturer, said: "The outlook is for a good pottery trade this fall. This is a matter of congratulation not only to the manufacturers but to the operatives as will. Everybody is better satisfied and much better off when trade is good."

WORKMEN SCARCE.

T. H. Bradshaw, of the Niles Pottery Co., arrived in the city this morning for a few days' business visit. He states that business with the new pottery at Niles is good and that the only trouble he has is in securing workmen. As this has been the cry every place, Mr. Bradshaw considers himself lucky that he is able to keep a full crew of first class workers.

GIVEN A CHAIR.

Charles D. Geller, who for 23 years has been shipping clerk at the Greenwood pottery, Trenton, N. J., severed his connection with that plant last week to go into the cooperage business. He was substantially remembered by the office force, being presented with a handsome Morris chair.

ORGANIZING PRESSERS.

Vice-President Hutchins, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, at Trenton, is now devoting his efforts toward forming a local of the general ware pressers. No meetin of the men in this branch has been held, but Mr. Hutchins is endeavoring to bring them togeteher.

MERE HISTORY.

In the pottery department of a local paper last evening there appeared eight items about that trade. Out of this number two could be considered fresh news. The other six appeared in these columns from a week to 10 days ago. Imitators make poor copyists.

RESUMED OPERATIONS.

Owing to the overflowing of the Assanpink creek and the canal at Trenton, the following potteries were compelled to shut down: Anchor, Bellmark, Equitable, Empire, Keystone and Acme potteries. All have resumed operations.

This is an extremely dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from it, and in many instances before a physician could be summoned or medicine obtained. Mrs. E. H. Delano, of Durant, Mich., is subject to severe attacks of cholera morbus. During the past four years she has kept at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and says it has always given her quick relief. During this time she has used two bottles of it. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. The safe way is to keep it at hand ready for instant use. Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar, capital of the state of Bolivar, has been bombarded by a Columbian government warship, and many persons were killed or wounded.

EAST END

WANT A FLAG

Members of the O. U. A. M. Can't Undestand Why There is None at Horace Mann Building.

Why is it that some of the members of the board of education pay no attention to the requests of the O. U. A. M. of the East End, who desire to erect a flag in front of the Horace Mann school, is more than some members of the order can understand. This school has been opened for more than a year, and there is not a semblance of a flag about the building. There is a state law governing these matters.

One member of Ohio Valley council, No. 23, O. U. A. M., this morning said that he had talked to members of the board of education about the placing of a flag on the building, but he could get no satisfaction from any member. The East End council is willing and only too anxious to either place a pole in front of the new school and permit the board to buy the flag, or vice versa, the council will buy the flag if the board will erect the pole. Its members argue that something should be done.

BROKE A LAMP

Excitement at the Revival Meeting Led to Some Confusion.

There was all sorts of excitement at the Free Methodist revival meeting at the Neville institute last evening, and it came near resulting in the destruction of the building by fire. The attendance at these meetings is great. Long before the meeting commences the little school room is packed almost to suffocation. Still, with all this the religious spirit seems to be there, and last night excitement ran high. There were said to be four conversions at the meeting. While one good brother stood up on a seat and said a few words, throwing his hands through the air over his head, down came one of the large lamps. When the lamp fell with a crash, confusion reigned supreme for a time.

The lamp fell down between a seat and the legs of a workman of the Laughlin pottery. This man was very alert, picked the broken lamp up and cast it out of a window. Then the meeting proceeded, although the room was a little darker than before.

Race for $50 Purse.

A horse race for a purse of $50 a side will take place at Columbian park one week from next Monday. It will be for blood from the start. It came about through a few remarks made at the East End station yesterday. H. L. Bradman owns a horse he calls Dan W. Larkins & Ferguson own a horse called Virginia Girl, and the merits of these two horses has been discussed at length by their owners. Arguments became so warm that a race was arranged, and now all sorts of wagers are being made on the result. Those who claim to know the merits of the two horses say Virginia Girl will win.

New Bridge Completed.

At last the bridge on Virginia avenue have been completed, and the thanks of the citizens of that part of the city are presented to Street Commissioner Frank Dickey. The last of the work of filling in of the approaches to the bridge was completed yesterday afternoon, and a fence or guard rail has been placed on the south side of the bridge along the bank of the run, which is spanned by the bridge. The improvement is one that has been long needed, and is greatly appreciated, especially by teamsters.

Fire in the 'Squire's Office.

A small fire occurred in the office of Justice L. W. Carman yesterday, but luckily not much damage was done. How the fire started no one seems to know, for there was no one in the office at the time. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Fulton, who lives on the same floor as Mr. Carman. She smelled smoke, which caused her to make an investigation. A table cloth was burned and some law books were scorched.

To Confer First Degree.

A number of applications will be presented at a meeting of Ohio Valley Council, No. 25, O. U. A. M., tomorrow evening, and after these are considered the first degree is expected to be conferred upon a number of new members. The lodge is one of the most interesting in the East End, and since it removed into the new hall on First avenue its membership has been increasing rapidly.

Attended a Funeral.

After spending a few weeks with relatives in western Pennsylvania and also attending the funeral of a sister, Mrs. W. J. Terrence, of First avenue, returned to her home today. She was met at Pittsburg by Mr. Terrence, who accompanied her home.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

The little children of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marshall spent today in Beaver visiting relatives.

Miss Blanche Fredericks, of New Brighton, and Miss Lulu Lloyd, of Fallston, were in the East End yesterday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. King, of St. George street.

Harold, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Haney, of First avenue, who has been ill with pneumonia for several days, is recovering, and it is expected he will be able to be out in a few days.

Assistant Street Commissioner Howard, of the East End, has opened Irwin street, from Ohio avenue to St. George street. This is the first street east of the new residence of Councilman Thomas.

SALINEVILLE

Salineville, August 27.—The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Nixon, a highly respected lady of 88 years, who died at Sewickley, Pa., occurred Sunday from the home of the late Postmaster Henry Nixon. She was born in Ireland and had lived in Salineville for over over 50 years. She had resided in Sewickley only about two years. The funeral service were conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. M. Rader, assisted by Rev. T. Watson. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery.

Rev. Mr. McKnight of Mechanicstown occupied the pulpit in the United Presbyterian church last Sunday evening at 4 o'clock.

R. G. Thompson returned home from Youngstown last Taursday after an absence of nearly four weeks on account of the illness of his daughter, Mrs. F. Bunn. He was present at the reunion of the two Carroll county companies held in Alliance, Company A, Thirty-second O. V. I., and the Twenty-sixth Independent battery, O. V. I. Only six of his company, A, were present, and 26 of the latter. They adjourned to meet the third Thursday of August, 1903, in Alliance.

Fred S. Bunn, a pharmacist of Youngstown, is prostrated at the home of his parents in this town with a serious attack of inflammatory rheumatism, while his wife is at their home in Youngstown slowly recovering from the effects of an operation in the city hospital on August 18. Mr. Bunn realized that he was on the verge of having a serious attack of that dread disease, and having no one to care for him took the first train to Salineville for the home of his mother, where he is now in a helpless condition. His wife has since been removed to her home in the care of her mother, Mrs. R. G. Thompson, who will bring her to Salineville as soon as she is able to travel.

Mrs. John House, near Grant's Hill, died Monday at her home, leaving a family of six small children. She was the daughter of the city street commissioner.

NEW OBJECTION MADE TO THE NASH CODE FOR THE CITIES OF OHIO

county to talk over the code. The former thinks the plan a good one and favors an adjournment being taken to give the members a chance to return and explain the bill to their constituents. He believes a week or so should be allowed for this purpose.

Under the code, all cities under 25,000 will have a mayor, three members of a board of public service, auditor, treasurer, four members of a board of public safety, police judge and police clerk and solicitor. Members from the counties and districts containing small towns say the municipalities which they represent can get along very well without any boards, auditor, police judge and police clerk. They argue these additional adjuncts will increase the burden of taxation.

The Nash code was introduced in the senate yesterday by Mr. Longworth, of Hamilton, and in the house by Mr. Comings, of Lorain. Speaker McKinnon appointed 23 members, 15 Republicans and 8 Democrats, a special committee to consider the bill. They will go over its provisions carefully, listen to hearings from the public on the measure and will submit a report to the house, recommending what action, in their judgment, should be taken. Metzgar, of Stark, and Maag, of Mahoning, were among those appointed on the committee. Six bills were introduced in the house yesterday.

Guerin, of Sandusky, introduced three, one curing the defect in the Royer act, taking away jurisdiction from the supreme court, and two others affecting pleadings and appeals. McNamee, of Franklin, introduced his pet measure, which was defeated last winter, to knock out the relief departments of the Pennsylvania and B. & O. railroads. Maag, of Mahoning, presented a bill to repeal the act allowing the clerk of the supreme court to have all the records in cases printed. This measure was rushed through on the last day of the recent session. It takes away from the attorneys the right to have their printing done at home. The senate was the scene of some excitement. Thompson, of Franklin, attempted to introduce a bill to repeal the Jones act relieving railroads from the necessity of keeping up arc lights at street crossings, but Longworth moved that the measure be rejected because it did not refer to either of the subjects mentioned in the governor's message. He thought it would be an act of discourtesy to the governor to introduce the bill.

Senator Decker stated the people of the state were demanding the repeal of the bill and that they should be considered. He hoped the bill would be received. Senators Archer and Stillwell took the same view. The matter of the rejection of the measure was deferred until today.

Senator Hanna arrived here last evening. Foraker is expected later. Representative Buell left for Salem Tuesday night, having secured leave of absence until a week next Monday. The senator says he came merely to discuss the code and will be here but a short time.

William Horne, who has been a resident of Salem for 36 years, stopped off at the state capital yesterday while going home from Indiana, where he attended a reunion of his old regiment, the Fiftieth Indiana infantry. The command met at Whitehall. It was the first time Mr. Horne had met his comrades since the close of the war.

An "apple congress" is to be held in St. Louis in November. Its object is to encourage orcharding and to extend knowledge of the subject. Such a congress would not be a bad idea in Columbiana county, which is right in the fruit belt, and where the very best of apples can be produced, perhaps with as little labor as anywhere on earth. Farmers have found by experience that they need mutual aid in ascertaining the true value of their crop and in exchanging the latest cultural facts. Properly speaking there can be no "glut" of apples when there are nearly 80,000,000 people at home craving them and all Europe is ready to buy them at good prices. What is called "glut" is merely imperfect distribution. The apples produced in this country have become famous throughout the world, and by proper attention to their cultivation and sale, farmers will soon be enabled to reap large profits from them. The matter has received less attention than its importance warrants, and the coming congress will do a good work if it awakens the producers to their opportunities.

The city council and the mayor are to be commended for their efforts to have the ordinances regulating railway traffic in the city enforced. The Horn switch, though very necessary to the business interests of the city, is a danger spot and too many precautions cannot be taken to prevent accidents in running freight cars over it.

Sam Small, temperance lecturer, is reported to have confessed that he was drunk at Bratteleboro, Vt., and could not lecture. "I have no excuse to offer," he says. Right you are, Samuel. Men who get drunk have been framing excuses since the world began, but a reasonable excuse has never been found.

Customs receipts under the Dingley law are greater than they were last year, and current figures of government revenue and expenditures show that the increase is needed. The Dingley law has proved itself to be a masterpiece of practical statesmanship.

The production of precious metals is still far from being the most profitable industry in the country. The United States produced only $78,000,000 worth of gold and $33,000,000 worth of silver last year.

The war game seems to be more expensive than interesting. Still it is probably necessary to give the tar something to do occasionally or Jack would speedily become a dull boy.

Interest in the coming Democratic state convention is a minus quantity. The same will be the case with the Democratic campaign.

Mount Pelee, like Bryan, cannot drop the erupting habit, even after it has done all the damage that seemed possible.

President Roosevelt has been praising Tom Reed and is now solid with his Maine constituents forevermore.

Trusts continue to multiply in Great Britain, despite the claim that protective tariff fosters them.

The head of the army and the navy attracts vastly more attention in the east than all the warships.

President Roosevelt favors letting the trusts live so long as they behave themselves.

A MINISTER'S BUSY WIFE.

Pe-ru-na a Prompt and Permanent Cure for Nervousness.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, Galesburg, Ill.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, recent superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-Seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's, as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY.

general traffic. F. E. Grosshans was present, and stated that Mr. McKinnon would be willing to build the bridge and place monument stones in position, and on the strength of this promise the plat was accepted.

Three bids had been received for the furnishing of street signs, and upon opening them it was found that the one submitted by George M. Adam, of this city, was much the cheaper. Two others were opened, both from out of town firms, but the council favored Mr. Adams' sample, it being deemed much more desirable on account of the size of the letter. Mr. Adams' figure was 33 1-3 cents each delivered or 46 cents placed in position. The order was given for 1,000 signs, and the contractor will place them upon the corners.

A communication was received from the hospital association with reference to the acceptance of its plat of lots on the Calcutta road. The letter was signed by W. A. Calhoun, superintendent of the hospital, and stated if the council would accept the addition at once the association would bind itself to stand good for the grading when the council at any time may direct the same to be done. The letter covered the same question that was raised in the McKinnon addition. The lots had but recently been laid out, and it being the desire of the association to realize on them as speedily as possible, it was impossible to do any grading before the plat was accepted. The members thought the guarantee was sufficiently binding, and when the vote was taken it showed every member in favor of complying with the request.

Solicitor McGarry informed the council that a dispute had arisen among several of the residents of Grant street over the amount of paving they would have to pay for. The case he desired to cite was that of Baz Rowe, who had let the contract for laying a sidewalk at his property. He had paid for that portion of the pavement which extends past his property line and forms the corner. He found out a little later that it was the city's place to pay for this work, and now a law suit was apparently unavoidable. Mr. Barlow was very well posted on the matter and explained that the engineer had instructed Rowe to let the contract in the manner followed out by him. Barlow stated it was all the engineer's fault, and when someone laughed he rmarked in stern tones: "You needn't laugh, this is no laughing matter; it's strictly business." The engineer will look after the tangle.

Mr. Peach presented a motion to order the residents of Chestnut street from Pleasant street to its terminus to pave their sidewalks. The city had graded the street for their accommodation, and it was now time they do some paving. The motion prevailed.

Right at this point the council devoted considerable time to a discussion of the roller question. The city at one time owned a roller, or part of one. Contractor Rinehart had asked permission to have the machine repaired. The request was grante and the contractor expended something like $36 on repairs. He has had possession of the roller ever since. Mr. Bullock explained it was now in Wellsville. He thought it was needed here, and moved the street commissioner be instructed to have the roller returned to the city at once. Mr. Peach argued against the motion, but the majority of the members thought Rinehart had probably used the apparatus long enough to pay for any outlay he may have made years ago. The roller belonged in this city and the motion carried, Mr. Peach alone voting no.

Mr. Johnston reported the committee appointed to buy a team of horses had succeeded in securing one, paying therefor $225. The committee, which is made up of Johnston, Peach and Marshall, was continued with instructions to match up the team.

The sidewalk in front of the Myers and Metz properties on Fifth street had not been laid acccording to the instructions of the engineer, and Mr. Bullock moved the latter officer be instructed to relay it. President Nice wanted to know who was going to pay the bill. Bullock supposed the city would, but Nice did not agree with him. The president said: "If that sidewalk is not as it should be the engineer is responsible. The resolution to improve sidewalks distinctly states the work shall be done under the supervision of the city engineer, and if there is extra expense connected with this matter the paid employes of this city, who are responsible for the error, will pay the bill. The engineer has a good bond and can be made to pay. You can make the change if you like, but the city will not pay for it, I tell you that."

There remarks were made in an emphatic manner, and no one doubted that he meant what he said. Those who had interested themselves sufficiently to investigate thought it had been the contractors who were responsible, and since payment for the improvement had been withheld the engineer was instructed to have the Rineharts do the work over again.

A petition was presented asking that 130 feet on Peach alley be paved. The property owners had signed the petition waiving all rights and agreeing to pay all the expense of the work. The request was granted.

Mr. Johnston made mention of the conduct of the men in charge of the shifting engine in the upper yards. Mayor Davidson made a few telling remarks, and he, with the marshal, will enforce the law prohibiting flying switches in the corporation.

McConnell stated school would start next week, and there was a foot bridge crossing Tanyard run near the West End pottery that ought to be repaired. There were several hundred school children who attended the Sixth street school, all of whom used the bridge. The short cut saved several hundred yards of a walk. He moved the street commissioner be ordered to make the needed repairs. The motion was adopted.

After an invitation to participate in the Labor day parade had been accepted by the council, adjournment was taken at 10:35.

WELLSVILLE

PAID FIREMEN

Mayor Fogo Desires to See An Up-to-Date Department in Wellsville.

Mayor W. L. Fogo is at the head of a project to establish a combination paid fire department and street gang here. He states that when the city bought the building at the corner of Fifth and Main streets it should have bought it for city purposes alone, instead of allowing other people to rent rooms in it. The mayor states that the building must have been purchased as a source of revenue which should not have been the case. He thinks that the water works office shuld be where the Bell telephone office is and that a hospital and a small cell for female prisoners should be where the water works office is. He thinks that sleeping apartments for a paid fire department and street gang should be where the Columbiana county telephone office now is and that a brass pole should be run from the second floor to the fire department on the first floor directly beneath, making fine fire department quarters.

The Columbiana county telephone company will either have to pay an increase of $5 per month or vacate the room which it occupies. It is predicted by city officials that the company will vacate. This will give the council a chance to take up the mayor's scheme. Mr. Fogo recently made the remark that the city ought to buy horses for the hose wagon and hook and ladder, and stable them in the rear of the hose room. He said that the city would then have a first class fire department and would also have horses which it could use in cleaning the streets.

A suggestion of this matter will probably be made to the council soon as something will have to be done at once relative to cleaning the streets. They are at present in a filthy condition.

Rural Route From Wellsville.

It is expected that there will be at least twenty-five applicants on deck tomorrow morning. The farmers near the city are very enthusiastic over the matter.

BUT ONE AFFIDAVIT

For the Position of Carrier on the New Rural Delivery Route.

Special Examiner Agent George Pate, of the postoffice department, conducted the examination for the carriers for the free rural delivery route to the north from this city yesterday afternoon. Only one applicant appeared. The papers are being forwarded to Washington and the appointment of the carrier will have to be made from that place.

Examiner Pate states that the route will make a short circuit through the farming district to the north of the city. It is for the purpose of giving free delivery to the district and the carrier will not carry the mail to the rural postoffices. He expects that a number of other rural routes will soon be laid out in Columbiana county.

Good Hard Facts—Told in As Few Words as Possible.

Mrs. Geo. Hall of 389 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "I was bilious, my head ached hard and constantly, there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so getting them at Larkins' Drug Store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness was overcome, the headache cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I can vouch for in burns as a fine application."

CATARRH

IS PERMANENTLY CURED BY LIFE PLANT

Dennison, Ohio.

Life Plant Co.

Messrs:—LIFE PLANT is a wonder cure!—After a siege of ten years of that dread disease, Catarrh of the head, and the failure of all other treatments, I was induced by my employer, Mr. C. W. Bell of this place, dealer in groceries, to try LIFE PLANT. The first bottle gave relief, and when I had taken two more, was free from and cured of Catarrh. I write you the above and hope you will publish it for the benefit of those who are suffering from the effects of that dread disease. LIFE PLANT is a great remedy. Yours Respectfully,

FRED KNAUS.

Mrs. Rev. J. C. Castle, of Smith's Ferry, Penn., writes:—After suffering for about thirty years with Catarrh I believe I am entirely cured by the use of a few bottles of LIFE PLANT.

Mr. F. Hurst, father of Hurst Brothers, Grocers, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says:—

A member of my family for six years or more, has had a severe case of Catarrh in the head and throat, causing nervous prostration, with so much pain and roaring in the head, that the hearing had become materially affected, the stomach deranged and the appetite gone, and with a feeling of prostration and lassitude. Was cured by the use of LIFE PLANT more than a year ago and the trouble has not returned.

New Philadelphia, O., April 25, 1900.

Life Plant Co.,

Messrs:—I was attacked last August with a very serious and painful form of stomach trouble which gave me no rest by day and very little sleep at night. I used numerous remedies without any beneficial results. I was unable to do any kind of work. I was in constant misery with pain in stomach, which was increased, even by a slight pressure. For months I could not take any kind of food without suffering severe pain. This condition continued until I commenced to use LIFE PLANT. I have taken six bottles and am now a well man, can do a full day's work, eat all kinds of food and feel no inconvenience.

Yours etc., Frederick Dubaugh.

These cases and hundreds of others were permanently cured by LIFE PLANT, after all other remedies failed. If you have Cattarh in any form and are not cured after giving LIFE PLANT a fair trial, your money will be refunded.

Price $1.00 a bottle, 6 bottles $5.00. Ask your druggist for LIFE PLANT—Take no substitute. For sale by druggists everywhere. THE LIFE PLANT CO., Canton Ohio.

ROOSEVELT HISTORIC

President Slept in Room Made Famous by Great Statesman.

HIS ENUNCIATIONS OF THE DAY

Not too Great to Renew His Acquaintance with a Cow Puncher on His Ranch—Conspicuous Among His New England Hosts Were Congressman Littlefield and Governor Hill.

Augusta, Me., August 27.—President Roosevelt yesterday passed through three states, delivered eight speeches. At Haverhill, Mass., the crowds overrode the police and surrounded the president's carriage, making it difficult for it to advance. As the president was about to board his car at South Lawrence, Mass., the leader of the band stepped up and made himself known to him. He said his name was Panan, a former cow puncher, and barber at Medura, N. D., where the president's ranch is located. The president immediately recognized him and greeted him as an old friend. The man said to him: "You said to me to get married and settle down and I him jointly with W. Arnett, an In which afforded the president no little amusement.

Conspicuous among those who boarded the train at Old Orchard to extend a welcome to the president was Congressman Littlefield, of Rockland. His visit was brief, and the conversation turned on other subjects than trusts.

The day was a particularly hard one on the president, but he gave slight signs of fatigue. Last night he was the guest of Governor Hill. The Governor's house has become historic because of the fact that it was the home of James G. Blaine, and the president occupied last night the identical bedroom used by that statesman.

Sacramento, Cal., August 27.—The Republican state convention yesterday adopted a platform deploring the death of President McKinley. The administration of President Roosevelt was endorsed and he was especially thanked for his support of measures peculiarly beneficial to the interests of the Pacific coast, such as the reclamation of arid lands, the exclusion of Chinese and the Isthmian canal legislation.

The convention endorsed the "firm but enlightened policy pursued in the Philippines, which has secured peace in the islands," and urged that "Contention over our policy in the Philippines should now cease, and the beneficent plans of the civil government be given the united and cordial support of all the people."

The convention recommends that liberal pension provisions be made for the soldiers and widows of the late civil war, and of the war with Spain.

On trusts the convention expresses itself as follows: "We condemn all conspiracies and combines to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production, or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers and all who are engaged in industry and commerce, and we approve and commend the efforts of President Roosevelt to enforce the laws against illegal combinations in restraint of trade and pledge him our hearty support in all his efforts to protect the people from all oppressive combinations of capital."

STILL PLAYING AT WAR.

Army of Defense Bristles Itself Over Approach of Imaginary Foe.

Newport, R. I., August 27.—The warming up exercises of the army of the defense of this vicinity became quite brisk yesterday, with almost continuous target practice from daylight to dark and a general alarm over an imaginary foe this evening.

Last night, shortly before 8 o'clock, came the roll of the drum and the scurry of troops to the parapets. Searchlight practice was kept up for some time after. The little flying squadron of torpedo boats arrived early this morning from the eastward

ENGLAND'S NEW BURDEN.

Though Boers Surrender, Troops Are Needed in the Transvaal.

Johannesburg, August 27.—A strong force of British troops has been dispatched to the western border of the Transvaal, ostensibly to relieve troops ordered to India, but it is currently reported that this step is taken owing to disturbances among the natives. Rumors are also current here of an intention to annex or establish a protectorate in Swaziland, where a strong force of constabulary is now posted.

Reading's Private Engine Wrecked.

Reading, Pa., August 27.—The Reading Railroad company's private engine, the Ariel, was wrecked in a cut at MortonVille, three miles south of Coatesville, on the Wilmington & Northern railroad, at noon yesterday. It jumped the track while going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. General Superintendent W. A. Garrett and Superintendent James Turk, of the Reading and Columbia division, of this city, were hurled to the floor. John H. Bradford, the engineer, and George W. Rockthasel, the fireman, were pinned fast in the wreck, and both were considerably injured and scalded. Garrett and Turk, though cut and bruised, were able to walk.

TWO FLED TO DEATH

LOST CONTROL OF MACHINE RESULTS IN FATALITIES.

Priest Among Those Hurt—Party Out for Pleasure, Meets Serious Mishap.

Long Branch, N. J., August 27.—Four persons went flying down an embankment with a big Rhodersnyder machine at Elberon shortly after 2 p. m., yesterday afternoon with fatal results. The dead are:

Frank J. Matthews, of eJrsey City, 40 years old.

Mrs. Cobb, of Richmond, Va., 32 years old.

The injured are:

Mrs. Louis Pizzini, at the Monmouth Memorial hospital suffering from a fractured leg and shock.

Rev. Father Grant, of the Paulist Fathers, New York, who injured his leg and is also suffering from shock.

Rudolph Meyer, the chauffeur, who escaped with an injured leg.

The five occupants of the big machine were moving toward Ocean avenue when the accident happened. They were out for a pleasure trip, having come from Deal, where Mr. Matthews has a summer home. Mr. Matthews was in charge of the machine, which was a new one, having been purchased a few days ago at a cost of $9,000. The chaffeur was occupying his seat on the step.

Where the road passes over the tracks of the New York & Long Branch railroad is a most dangerous spot, and care is always exercised by drivers. The tracks of the Atlantic Coast trolley road are first crossed. After crossing the trolley tracks Mr. Matthews lost control of his machine. William H. Havens, who is a gardener for C. C. Minzesheimer, of Bath avenue, was on the street when Mr. Matthews and his party approached. He noticed that the big machine was swerving and in his efforts to get out of the way he was run into and knocked down, but not seriously hurt.

The chaffeur was on the step, and seeing the accident was sure to come jumped and saved his life. The tracks of the New York & Long Branch railroad are below at a distance of 35 feet. The railing gave way to the pressure of the big machine, which turned a somersault as it went down. Mr. Matthews was underneath the wreck and was pinioned fast. His death was almost instantaneous. Mr. Matthews' hip was broken as was one of his legs.

The dead body of Mr. Matthews was at once removed from the tracks and taken to the morgue of Hyers Flock, where it is now being prepared for burial. The central train, due at Long Branch at 2:30, was approaching at the time of the accident, and had it been delayed a few minutes would have crushed into the party. As it was the two injured women were taken aboard and conveyed on stretchers to the hospital. The unfortunate women were sisters, being residents of Richmond, Va. Mrs. Cobb lingered until a little before 5 o'clock, when she died. She suffered internal injury.

The party left the Holloway inn a few minutes before th tragedy for a pleasure trip. Father Grant escaped serious injury. He was taken to his room at the Hathway inn, where he is being attended by Dr. J. H. Bryan. Mrs. Pizzini is resting well and will recover. Mr. Matthews has been president of the National Realty company, of Jersey City.

Sam Had No Excuse.

Brattleboro, Vt., August 27.—The collapse of the Rev. Sam Small, the convened in Asociation hall this was to speak for the "No License-Local Option party" here last night, by Rev. Mr. Small's own admission was due to intoxication. Mr. Small says: "I was drunk. I have no excuse to offer."

Aunt and Niece Asphyxiated.

New York, August 27.—Mrs. Josphine Vollmer, 51 years old, and her 23-year-old niece, Mary Miller, were found dead in bed at their home yesterday. They had been asphyxiated by illuminating gas. A coroner said the case was one of homicide and suicide. Relatives of the dead woman believe that she was demented.

New Torpedo Boats Accepted.

Washington, August 27.—The navy department today accepted the torpedo boats DeLong and Wilkes, which have had their final trials. The torpedo boat Decatur will have her final trial on Saturday, and the preliminary trial of the destroyer Barry will occur the same day.

Klondike Stock Waning.

Washington, August 27.—The golden star of the Klondike is on the wane. The state department states that the total yield of the Klondike last year was $24,000,000, and that the production of the coming year will not exceed $14,000,000. No new discoveries have been made for over a year.

NO ONE KNEW JONES

Chicago Again Comes to the Center With the Usual Old Murder Mystery.

HE HAD A NEPHEW WITH HIM

This Person Caused Rumor to be Circulated That Aged Man Was Dead, But Neighbors& Were Ignorant of Funeral Obsequies.

Chicago, August 27.—Peculiar circumstances surrounding the reported death of Philetus Jones, represented as a Boston millionaire and engaged in a large real estate deal in Chicago, came to the notice of the police yesterday. Notices in last Saturday's papers told of the sudden death of Mr. Jones from heart disease, at the residence of a nephew, on Astor street, but neither the name of the nphew nor the street number was given. The police have found no one here who knew Mr. Jones excepting John A. I. Lee, through whom, as agent, Mr. Jones was reported to be negotiating the purchase of certain property.

By Mr. Lee it was said that the body had been shipped to Boston, but no record of the death can be found in the health department offices here, nor have the officials issued a permit for the removal of the body from the state. Lee says that Mr. Jones was accompanied by a nephew, Mr. Alton by name. Mr. Lee says that an agreement to purchase the property within a specified time was signed by Jones and that on August 23 he received a note from Alton announcing the death of Jones, in which it was said the body would be taken to Boston and that after the funeral Alton would return and complete the purchase.

Lee said Mr. Jones was a tall man with gray hair, mustache and beard He was 73 years old. The police learned that the house at 142 Astor street, in which Lee said Jones had lived, had been sold recently by the former owners to a stranger. The doors and windows of the house were locked, and it bore every evidence of having been closed for the summer. Neighbors said they did not know the new occupants of the house, but they were positive no funeral had been held there, and that no body had been taken away unless it had been done secretly. The detectives will investigate further the sale of the Astor street residence, and if shall be found to have been sold to Jones, it may be broken into and searched.

D. R. Thomas, an attorney, says that Lee was indebted to him for money loaned, legal fees and office rent, and to satisfy this debt Lee had assigned $1,100 of a commission to be received in the Jones real estate deal. The police have a theory that Philetus Jones is a myth.

REBELS ARE IN POWER.

Ciudad Bolivar in Hands of Revolutionists—Blame Put on British Government.

Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar is still in the power of the revolutionists. The town was fired upon day and night by the gunboats Bolivar and Restaurador, which attempted to land forces to re-occupy the place. About 600 shells were fired into the city. When the ammunition of the Restauruador was exhausted, she left for La Guaira to obtain additional supplies, after which the bombardment will be resumed.

There are no foreign warships in the Orinoco river to protect the interests of the powers, and the British government is being blamed in certain quarters for abandoning the 3,000 subjects of Great Britain who reside in the district of Ciudad Bolivar.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, August 27.—The Dutch government has notified Venezuela that it refuses to recognize the blockade of Venezuelan ports, as being non-effective.

THE GIRL IN GREEN.

We have seen the maid attired
All in red from top to toes;
We have seen her dressed in pink and white
And rivaling the rose;
We have seen the blue and purple,
But the latest thing we've seen
In the way of palpitations
Is the maiden dressed in green!

Hat, waist, skirt, shoes, gloves and belt, all
Of the purest shamrock hue,
With perhaps a dainty touch here
Of a little greenish blue,
And she musically brushes
All the dying fashions by,
With a verdant little twinkle
In her little greenish eye!

See her reigning on the boardwalk!
See her sailing up the street,
With a lot of fawning greenies
At her dainty green shod feet!
And exultant nature loudly
Warbles from the spreading tree,
"There she goes—the girl that gushes—
And she's patterned after me!"

Hail the newest thing in crazes!
Crown the latest color queen!
We're prepared to pass the laurels
To the giddy girl in green;
Yet in town or in the country
Or the seashore's sheltered nooks,
Paste this tip where you can see it:
"She's less verdant than she looks!"
—Baltimore News.

It Might Prove Fatal.

Willing to Conform.

The rear seat in the open street car was comfortably filled already when the cheerful looking young man with the blond hair squeezed himself down between two portly consumers of nicotine.

"It seems to me," observed one of them presently, "that when there are plenty of other seats in the car it's an imposition for a man who isn't smoking to crowd in among the smokers."

"It isn't my fault that I'm not smoking," replied the blond young man, with his most engaging smile. "If you have another cigar in your pocket, I'll be glad to join you."

It was a superb exhibition of gall, but he got the cigar.—Chicago Tribune.

"What was it?" her husband asked sleepily.

NEAR HIS OLD HOME

Commanding General of the Army Speaks Felicitiously in Old New England.

THE RECEPTION TENDERED HIM

Worcester, Mass., August 27.—A magnificent reception was tendered Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles last night by Post 10, G. A. R. Eight hundred persons greeted the commanding general of the army. General Miles responded to the call for a speech, expressing his appreciation of the honor done him, and said that it was a pleasure to attend such a gathering in Worcester, which he considered as almost his home, as he was born and brought up so near.

After the reception he was entertained by the Worcester club, and then was driven to the state armory, where he saw a drill by Company A, of the State Militia, and in response to a call by Captain Edwin Barret, spoke to the members of the company. He left the city on the midnight train for West Point, where he goes to join his wife, who is paying a short visit to their son.

LOCKED UP IN CAR.

Alleged Strike Breakers Say They Were Unwarrantedly Detained in Cars.

Omaha, Neb., August 27.—Ten warrants were served on President Burt, of the Union Pacific railroad company, yesterday afternoon, charging him jointly with W. Arnett, an Indianapolis labor agent, with false imprisonment. The warrants were sworn out by ten men who allege they were hired by Arnett to work in the shops of the Union Pacific road at Denver. The warrants charge that each of the men was imprisoned in cars, and that they were not given their liberty until they reached the shop yards of the company in this city. President Burt acknowledged service, and filed a bond for his appearance in court tomorrow.

Lewis Lord, a member of the party, and who swore to the charges in one of the warrants, said the party had been employed by Arnett to go to work in the Union Pacific shops at Denver. He says that when they reached Council Bluffs they were locked in the cars, and armed guards were placed at the doors to prevent their escape. He says they were kept in the car until they reached the shop yards in this city, when they were given their liberty. Lord claims that some of the party were married men and left positions to take others here at better wages than they had been receiving, and were told that no strike existed on the road.

BOAST BROUGHT ARREST.

Andrew Haskins Got Himself Into Trouble by Proclaiming Slaying Ability.

Pittsburg, August 27.—Boasting in Philadelphia that he had killed a woman and would kill another, Andrew Haskins, a negro, gave the Pittsburg police a clew that led to his arrest Tuesday. The murder he bragged of was committed in Allegheny county, and last evening Detective James Steele, of Allegheny, went to Philadelphia with a coroner's commitment, charging Haskins with the murder of Ella Dennis, a negress, at Dooker's Hollow, October 5, 1899.

Haskins has been sought for by Pittsburg officers since the crime was committed, but although he has been heard from frequently he eluded arrest. Moday Superintendent Henry Muth, of Allegheny, received a telegram from Harry M. Quirk, superintendent of police of Philadelphia, saying that Haskins was in that city and had boasted of killing a woman. October 8, 1899, a coroner's jury held an inquest in the case of Ella Dennis and recommended that Haskins be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Tuesday morning Superintendent Muth telegraphed to Philadelphia the details of the affair, and last evening received another communication saying that Haskins was under arrest. The prisoner will be brought to Pittsburg.

The murder of Ella Dennis created a considerable sensation. She was 30 years old and lived near Turtle Creek. She was found in her home October 1 with evidences of having been beaten with a club. She was removed to the Woodville County home, where October 5 she died. Her story was that Haskins was her sweetheart. He quarreled with her and then left the house. Procuring a club, he returned and renewed the quarrel.

They had bored through the top of the cage and were about to break through the roof when the wife of Jailer Smith, armed a negro "trusty," and taking her husband's shotgun, covered the prisoners and kept them still until her husband's return. The prisoners were forced to return to their cells.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY. 25 Years in Ohio. 250,000 Cured.

Flaccus, of Wheeling, and Miss Jeannette Bailey, of Wheeling.

The four bridesmaids wore beautiful gows of pale blue muslin tucked and elaborately trimmed with white lace medallions. Each young lady wore a picture hat of the same hue as her gown and trimmed in forget-me-nots and each carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas tied with white satin ribbon.

Rev. Mr. Jordan and Rev. Mr. Gorrell followed and took their places just inside the bower. Then came the groom and his best man, Mr. Jefferson De Mont Thompson, of New York.

Following came Miss Ann Lee as maid of honor, who looked charming in a robe of Irish point lace over white chiffon drop skirt, which in turn was over a foundation of taffeta of the same color. She carried a shower bouquet of La France roses and wore a large picture hat of white tulle trimmed with a long white ostrich plume.

The ushers were in advance of the wedding party. They were Colonel Wilbur C. Brown, of New York; Mr. Earl Munson, of Wellsville; Mr. Harold Marshall, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Will Taylor, of this city. They, as well as the groom and best man, wore gray frock coats with trousers to match and gray suede gloves.

The bride, looking handsome, entered upon the arm of her father. She was magnificently attired in a gown of white satin crepe de chine, trimmed in rose point lace. The skirt, which was made with a habit back, had a full court train. The skirt was tucked in clusters of five-inch tucks, which were laid on the bias. A graduated flounce of the crepe de chine, edged with three folds, lent graceful curves to the skirt, which also had a deep yoke of the rose point. The waist was tucked solid with diagonal inch tucks. The yoke, which was quite deep and extended well down on the shoulders, was of the point lace with the rose designs appliqued over white chiffon. The sleeves, which were also tucked, had a large puff at the elbow, a tight under-sleeve finished with loops of the rose point forming a small cuff. White suede gloves were worn. The bridal veil was of white tulle and extended to the floor in the front and to the tip of the long train at the back. This was held in place by a snowy airgrette and a diamond crown, the latter a gift of the groom. The shoes were of white satin with large white rosettes.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was met by the officiating clergymen and the groom. The tableau at this point was most beautiful, and as the favorite Episcopal ceremony was being read the soft strains of "The Spring Song" and "In June" were played by the orchestra, making the ceremony still more impressive.

The final benediction ended and the usual congratulations offered the bridal party and guests partook of an elaborate wedding breakfast, served by Kuhn, of Pittsburg.

Mrs. Marshall, the mother of the bride wore a handsome gown of tan embroidered batiste over pink silk with real lace yoke, and elaborately trimmed with lace throughout.

Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, mother of the groom, wore an elegant imported costume of white pineapple silk over taffeta of the same color. The gown was made in princess fashion, the waist and yoke being shirred. The yoke was of Point-de-Venice lace and hand embroidered. The skirt, which was entraine, had elaborate designs of the point lace and silk embroidery. The sleeves were short and the lace with deep graduated ruffles of the pineapple silk. Long openwork silk gloves were worn. Mrs. Stafford's hat was of white French chip, trimmed in maline and ribbon velvet and encircled by a large white ostrich plume. She carried a white feather boa and wore diamond ornaments.

The gifts, which were arranged in a room on the second floor, attracted every one. They were both numerous and elegant. The groom's gifts to his bride were a magnificient tiara of diamonds, weighing 4 carats, and a large gold locket with diamond setting. The parents' gift were the furnishing complete for one of the rooms in the Knowles residence. From the groom's mother, Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, came a chest of small silver containing a hundred pieces.

Among other gifts from out of town friends were: Silver bronze hanging chandelabra, old Dutch clock, C. T. Hard company; a four-foot brass candle stick holder, Miss Adelaide Flaccus, Wheeling; silver fern dish, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilmore, New York; silver celery dish, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, New York; cut glass bowl on a mirror stand, Miss Rodriguez, New York; rose bowl, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Georgetown; handsome jardinier, Mrs. James Goodwin, New York; Venetian glass berry bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Knowles, California; silver tea set, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, New York; cut glass celery dish, Mr. Earl Munsen, Wellsville; cherry clock with heavy trimmings, Senator and Mrs. Oliver S. Marshall, New Cumberland; picture, Dr. and Mrs. N. C. Johnson, Allegheny; brass wall-piece, Miss Jeanette Bailey, Wheeling; hand painted bread plate, Miss Helen Upson, Mancfield; silver bon-bon dish, Dr. and Mrs. Fowler, New York; hand painted bon-bon dich, Mr. Earl Munson, Wellsville; brass candle sticks, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dowling, London, O.; full set of linens with bride's initials embroidered, Mrs. M. M. Gardner; silver sardine fork, Miss Sarriora, New Orleans; Dr. and Mrs. H. Baer, a Verna marton chair; Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley, a handsome screen.

Last evening Miss Marshall entertained her brides' maids at 7 o'clock dinner at her home. At this time she presented each young lady with a very pretty rose gold brooch with pearl setting. Her present to the maid of honor was a gold chain with pearl drop pendant. Mr. Knowles also entertained the best man and ushers at dinner last evening at his home on Broadway. His gifts to them were pearl scarf pins, and to the best man a gold cigarette case.

About 75 relatives and friends of the young couple were present. Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, mother of the groom: Miss Roderiguez, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, and Col. Wilbur C. Brown, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bliss, and Miss Bliss, of Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Marshall, New Cumberland; Mr. A. E. Tennant, Pittsburg; Mr. James G. Marshall, New Cumberland; and the Misses Johnson, of Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles left on a special car, "The Arcadia," attached to the four train for an eastern trip, including New York, Babylon, L. Is., Shelter Island. The bride's traveling gown was a hardsome creation of dark blue broadcloth, trimmed with Irish lace. She wore a large tan hat. In the special car with the bride and groom were: Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, Miss Rodringuez, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, returning to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles will be at home at their residence on Broadway after September 25.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Great Rush to Hookstown—Over 100 rigs bound for the Hookstown fair crossed the bridge this morning.

Made Him Settle—John Rinehart was in Ravenna yesterday afternoon, looking after Victor Austin, a young man who had skipped his board bill. A warrant was secured for his arrest and Mr. Rinehart was deputized to serve it. The young man was badly frightened and very willingly paid the amount due.

A Pleasant Affair—James Jackson, a dipper at the K., T. & K., gave a smoker last evening to his gentlemen friends, at his home on Waterloo street. The evening was spent in music and games and fine refreshments were served. About 25 young men were present and had a most enjoyable time.

The Country Jay—A very large crowd was in attendance at the lecture given by Rev. Barney Tompkins at the McKinley avenue union chapel last night. The subject was "A Jay From the Country," and was of a humorous turn. The lecture was greatly enjoyed, and it is likely the congregation will secure the speaker for another number at a later date.

Will Visit East Palestine—The regular weekly meeting of General Garfield camp, Sons of Veterans, was held in G. A. R. hall last evening. An invitation to pay a fraternal visit to the camp at East Palestine on September 8 was read and accepted. The members of the Salem camp will also be at East Palestine on that date, and it is expected that a large number will be present from this city.

Pastor Jordan's Return—Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, arrived in the city last evening for the epurpose of performing the ceremony at the Marshall-Knowles wedding today. Mr. Jordan states that he is enjoying his vacation immensely. He will leave again this evening to continue it. The improvements at the church are progressing rapidly, and it is announced that services will be held in the church one week from next Sunday, when the pastor will have returned home.

MATERIAL HARD TO GET

More Building Work Would Be in Progress But for This Fact.

"The only reason that ther are enot a great deal more improvements being made in East Liverpoool this summer is that it has been impossible to secure the material with which to do the work," said a prominent contractor of the city. "I know of several potteries that would have liked to make improvements, but could not do so for the reason that the contractors were unable to take up the work.

"It is now a little easier to secure material, but it is too late to begin any large improvement. I predict that next year will see another big revival in the building business, and that the contractors will be just as busy as they have been this season."

A manufacturing potter who heard these statements said they were correct. His firm had contemplated making a number of extensive improvements, but that the contractors could give no assurance when it could be finished, and the firm could not run the risk of having several of the departments of the plant idle for any length of time.

The brick for the new front of the K., T. & K. structure on Walnut street have at last arrived and the wall will be put up at once.

IN AN ICE CREAM FREEZER

A Man's Hand Is Caught And Comes Near Being Severed at the Wrist.

Guy Gibbons, a mechanic employed at the Chester tin mill, had his left hand so badly injured shortly before noon today that 15 stitches were required to pull the flesh together.

Gibbons boarded at the Rowe restaurant on Washington street and this morning said that he was not going to work, but proposed to go to his home in Alliance for a few days. Shortly before noon Mr. Rowe was engaged in making some ice cream and Gibbons went to assist him. He accidentally had his hand caught in the machinery, which almost resulted in the hand being severed at the wrist. The injury was dressed by Dr. W. T. Norris.

AMID FLORAL BEAUTY YOUNG LIVES UNITED IN HOLY MATRIMONY

Elaborate and Impressive Ceremony at the Marshall-Knowles Nuptials in Chester Today at Noon.

Ever since the announcement of the engagement of Miss Alma Marshall, of the Southside, and Mr. Harold Homer Knowles, of this city, East Liverpool society has been more or less on the tiptoe of expectation regarding the ceremony. That it would be elaborate and elegant no one doubted. A recent death in Mr. Knowles' family was all that prevented the occasion from being one of the most brilliant that the city has ever witnessed. As it was, though the ceremony was robbed of much of its splendor, and although none were present save the relatives and most intimate friends of the two families, it was one of the most beautiful home weddings which has occurred here in some time.

The marriage ceremony was performed at high noon today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, of Chester, by Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. J. W. Gorrell, pastor of the Christian church.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall was a mass of floral beauty. Flowers were used in great profusion, and the entire plan was ingeniously and delicately wrought by a local florist. In the large double parlors the decorations were in green and white. The mantles were banked with white roses and astors. At the north end of the room, and near two windows which overlook the placid waters of the Ohio, a bower had been formed of luxuriant tropical plants.

This entrancing spot was made the marriage altar. The decorations in the south parlor consisted of tropical plants and pink roses, while those in the dining room, which was decorated in pink and white, were so arranged as to make a delicate and pleasing effect.

The sonorous notes of the Lohengrin march, as played by Miss Burtt Johnson, a friend of the bride, announced the approach of the bridal party, which formed in the spacious reception hall. First came the ribbon bearers, Misses Nell Baillie, of Pittsburg, and Nina Lee, of this city, who advanced bearing with them the ribbon which formed the aisle through which the bridal party passed. Then came the other bridesmaids, Miss Adelaide

The present management of the News Review, since assuming control of the paper on March 1, 1901, has constantly been enlarging its facilities and improving the paper. How the circulation has grown since new life was infused into the paper; how it was more than trebled in one short year are matters with which its readers are well acquainted. But very few persons are aware of the extent of the change wrought in the mechanical department of the paper. The proprietors have constantly been adding new machinery and during the present month have installed an up-to-date press which prints 5,000 to 6,000 papers an hour. It is a marvel of mechanism and well worth inspection.

The News Review now has its plant in most excellent shape, and is the best equipped of any newspaper office in the county for the publication of a daily paper. It has also one of the largest and best arranged job offices in eastern Ohio. That the public may know what has been done and those who are not familiar with the various processes by which an up-to-date daily newspaper is produced, the publishers invite all readers, patrons and friends to make a visit to the News Review office some time Friday afternoon or evening of this week. The entire plant will be open to inspection from 3 to 10 p. m. The wonderful Mergenthaler typesetting machines—one of the marvels of the age—will be in operation; the new press will be set going and papers run upon it, and the job rooms will also be open for visitors' inspection. A cordial invitation is extended to the public, both ladies and gentlemen, to call during the hours mentioned. Newspaper men of this city and of the county and neighborhood are especially invited. The News Review is ready for a house-warming and wants to meet all its friends, and to show them just how the oldest and best daily paper in Columbiana county is made. Children, unless accompanied by their parents, will not be admitted.

NEW OBJECTION MADE TO THE NASH CODE FOR THE CITIES OF OHIO

It Is Contended That It Would Be Expensive For Small Municipalities—Other Plans Suggested.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 27.—While he does not wish to be regarded as opposing Governor Nash, Representative Daniel Crist, of Columbiana county, questions very much whether the form of government provided for small cities under the administration plan, would be practicable. He fears it would increase their expenses many fold. To his mind the proper solution of the problem would be to submit to the voters, next year, the question of amending the constitution, to provide for the classification of cities on a basis of population. It is beginning to dawn upon the legislators that government for the lesser municipalities under the code, as introduced, will be an expensive luxury, the knowledge of which is making new converts to the idea that a constitutional amendment is the only way out of the difficulty.

A desire to obviate the imposition of unnecessary expense upon the lesser municipalities is what moved the governor in his advocacy of the plan to make 15,000 the dividing mark between cities and villages. It was quite apparent to him that the lower the line was put, the greater would be the expense of the operation of the law in the muicipalities desiring to remain in the city class. Speaker McKinnon thinks the constitution should be amended to permit classification of cities, and that there should be four grades, based on populations of 5,000, 25,000, 100,000 and all above 100,000. Then, he says, there should be a sufficient variety of governmental systems to fully meet the diversified necessities of every municipal division in the state. He thinks that a resolution providing for this should be submitted to the voters in 1903, so that the next general assembly could be able to establish a stable and popular form of administration for the various classes of cities.

It is astonishing how the members are falling into line with this suggestion; yet it is doubtful if this agitation will lead to the adoption of the plan. The governor would hardly entertain for a moment a proposition to lay his bill aside. Messrs. Crist and Buell have been asked to meet the citizens of the leading cities in Columbiana

The Pennsylvania company was the recipient of a considerable amount of anything but complimentary remarks from the members of council at the meeting last evening. The remarks were occasioned when Mr. Johnson spoke of the manner in which trainmen switched their cars on horn switch. He stated that on several occasions lately pedestrians had had very narrow escapes.

A general discussion of the action of the trainmen was taken up with the result that the mayor and marshall were given specific instructions to arrest the conductor of any train when he was found making a "flying switch."

Mayor Davidson took the floor and stated that he had already had a session with one of the minor railroad officials. It was only yesterday that an official had come to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant against two small boys for jumping on trains.

The mayor certainly gave the officials a straight talk from the shoulder. He stated that he was sorry that he was compelled to make the complaint, yet the trainmen never attempted to obey the ordinances in the manner of switching cars. The mayor stated that the company would block sidewalks and then, if anyone climbed over the cars, the officials were asked to arrest them.

The same conditions also exist at the crossings along the main tracks of the company through the city. Ordinances have been passed to prohibit unnecessary whistling and the company never even made an attempt to obey it.

The city official state that the preemptory order to inforce the ordinannce preventing flying switches will be enforced to the letter and that arrests will follow any violation. Unless the trainmen change their tactics it will not be long until the officials will have cause for action. The council has done well to take this matter up as all who have to cross the horn switch during the day have seen numerous narrow escapes if they have not had them themselves.

CITY ENGINEER SCORED BY NICE

Who Says City Will Not Pay For Relaying of Sidewalks on Fifth Street.

CITY WANTS ITS PROPERTY

Contractor Rinehart Must Return the Roller at Once—Two Plats of New Additions Accepted—Street Signs Have Been Ordered.

If the meeting of city council was lengthy, it can also be said that a vast amount of important business was transacted. But one member was absent, Dr. Marshall, of the Fifth ward, being out of the city.

A report was made by the special committee which had been appointed to investigate and report upon the advisability of constructing a bridge to connect Eighth and Chestnut streets. Several matters were explained and the committee was continued.

The grading of Springdale street was brought up through a petition signed by all the property owners on the street. It was explained by Attorney Grosshans, who is one of the signers, that the improvement would not cost the city a cent. The residents simply desired that the work be done under the direction of the engineer and in the manner usually employed with reference to the payments. John Lutton had partially completed the work, but had thrown up the contract, and it was the desire of those owning the property to have the remainder of the grading done by McLaughlin Bros., the engineer to determine how much Lutton was entitled to be paid for. The request was granted.

The light committee recommended the placing of six of the small lights in the vicinity of Edgewood, where between 30 and 40 new houses had been built within the past few years. The recommendation was concurred in. Mr. Johnston stated a light was badly needed on Franklin street. This latter was referred to the light committee.

Chairman Barlow, of the wharf committee, asked that repairs be made at the Broadway wharf. A sewer at that point was in very bad shape, as was shown by an explanation from Wharfmaster McClure. An appropriation of $50 was made to have the repairs completed.

A petition was read asking that the plat of M. R. McKinnon's tenth addition to the city be accepted. Reference was made to the ordinance providing for street improvements, bridges and monument stones to the placed at street corners. The question was asked as to whether the requirements had been complied with. Messrs. Bullock and Johnston stated they had made a trip to the new addition during the afternoon, and that a considerable amount of work had been done. There was some difference of opinion on the question of accepting the plat, President Nice stating that he had looked over the ground and in his opinion the condition of the streets was in anything but a completed state. There was a deep ravine in the addition and this had not been bridged, nor had the grade on several of the streets been made to correspond with those on the other side of the Calcutta road. Some of the members were a little rusty on the requirements of the ordinance, and it was finally stated that all the ordinance required was for the owners of the new addition to make the streets passable for

SALINEVILLE'S CITY ATTORNEY WANTS THE CITY ENJOINED.

Culmination of a Dispute in Council Over Payment for Electric Lighting.

Salineville, August 27.—(Special)—There is a merry war on in the town council, which is split into two factions, pulling in opposite directions. It all arose over the electric lighting company's bills, certain councilmen contending that they were unreasonable and should not be paid.

The lighting bill for July was held over and hung up, but now an ordinance providing for its payment and also the August bill is pending and is now on its second reading.

The city solicitor, F. E. McCormick, will go to Lisbon today and endeavor to get an injunction issued, restraining the clerk from paying any money over to the light company. The light company has employed attorneys and a most interesting fight is promised.

A Late Start Home.

The last excursion train to Rochester which took the parties who were in attendance at the picnic at Rock Springs park Tuesday did not leave the local station until 11 o'clock last night. A large number of the excursionists remained until the late train. The 7:33 train west was delayed for nearly an hour on account of the rush of traffic.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, Aug. 27—(Special)—Marriage licenses were issued as follows: Edgar S. Hawkins, of East Rochester, and Miss Nettie Myers, of Bayard; Andrew Miller and Miss Annie Smith, of Homeworth; Byron Shively, of Moultrie, and Miss Ada M. Bower, of New Chambersburg.

TWO WOMEN OF SALEM LEAVE HUSBANDS AND HOME

Salem, August 27.—Mrs. Adam Erbe and Mrs. Hiram Bourne, both of Broadway, took their bag and baggage Monday afterroon and suddenly left the city. It is alleged that their stay away from the city is likely to be permanent. Each woman has a little daughter and the children were taken along.

Domestic infelicity is assigned as a reason for the women thus breaking up their homes. It is said the husbands were aware of the plans of the women, and when they returned home from work last night found them gone. The women went to Cleveland from this city, and their destination after that is not made public.

Mr. Bourne and Mr. Erbe work at the pottery, and are industrious. They announce that they will sell their household goods soon. Mr. Bourne said it was true the women had gone for good. He said he had an idea where they went, but declined to state the place. He stated that in the event his wife should return she could not expect his support again.

The outcome of the matter will probably be two divorce suits filed by the deserted husbands.

Mr. Bourne was formerly a resident of East Liverpool, having resided for a number of years on Peake street, the second house north of Ogden street.

ON THE WAY TO THE FAIR

The Horse Reared, Young Lady Was Thrown Out And Buggy Broken.

Campbell Brown and Miss Elitha Cowles, the latter being a visitor to friends in this city from New Castle, met with a runaway accident just as they were starting for Hookstown this morning. The couple were in a runabout and the horse took fright at a train just as they were driving over the Broadway crossing.

The animal reared and came down straddling the shafts. Brown managed to alight to catch the horse's head before the vehicle turned over, but Miss Cowles was thrown out. The front axle of the vehicle was bent in such a manner that it had to be returned to the livery stable. As neither of the occupants was injured, another buggy was secured and the trip to the fair began over again.

Took Two to Jail.

Sheriff Leonard, who was in Wellsville, returned to Lisbon yesterday afternoon. He took with him Ellis Stoffel and Roy McCalmont, the two young men who were charged with entering and robbing Hale's confectionery store in Wellsville.

JUDGE HOADLY DEAD

Ex-Governor of Ohio Died Last Night at Watkins, N. Y.

Watkins, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Ex-Governor Hoadly, of Ohio, died here last evening. He and his family had been at Watkins for several weeks. The remains will be taken to Cincinnati for burial. George Hoadly was born in New Haven, Conn., July 31, 1826. He was educated at the Western Reserve college, studid law at Cambridge, Zanesville and Cincinnati and was admitted to the bar in the latter city in 1847.

In 1851 he was elected by the legislature as sole judge of the superior court of Cincinnati as originally constituted, and in 1855 city solicitor. In 1859 he was elected and in 1864 re-elected by the people one of the judges of the new superior court. Later he declined a position on the supreme bench. In 1866 he resigned as superior judge. He was a Republican until 1872 when he joined the Greeley movement. In October, 1883, Judge Hoadly was elected governor of Ohio, defeating Joseph B. Foraker by whom he was in turn defeated in 1885. Gov. Hoadly was one of the counsel which successfully opposed the project of cumpulsory reading of the bible in the public schools. In March, 1887, Gov. Hoadly removed to New York city and became the head of a law firm.

Col. W. C. Watson, of this city, was on Gov. Hoadly's staff. He had been state tobacco inspector under Gov. R. M. Bishop, an office created by the Grangers, being the first and only man to hold that position. The tobacco warehouse at Bellaire was constructed under his supervision. Knowing that the scheme would be a failure, Col. Watson resigned and recommended that the office be abolished. This was done, and remembering it, Gov. Hoadly, believing in honesty in official life, tendered him a place on his staff, and Col. Watson served during his term as aide de camp with the rank of colonel. He had previously served several years in the National Guard.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX

DEVELOPS AT THE RILEY HOME NEAR ROGERS.

A Son of the Former Victim Taken Ill of the Disease

Rogers, Aug. 27.—(Special)—Another case of smallpox has developed in the Roley family, the victim being Edwin, son of the former vicitm.

No alarm is felt, however, as the attending physician, Dr. S. K. Crawford, hesitated for several days before pronouncing the case smallpox on account of the very mild form in which the disease appeared. Dr. Crawford has the case well in hand, and does not hesitate to say there is no danger whatever of the disease spreading. The authorities have taken every precaution to prevent an epidemic, and there is no anxiety felt at this time. T. E. Roley, the man mho has been afflicted with the disease for some time is recovering rapidly, and is now out of danger. The mother, who has been ill for several days, and who was thought to be taking smallpox is now entirely out of danger, and will not take the disease.

AT THE AGE OF 95

Alexander Wells, of Wellsville, Visits Lisbon and Recalls Early Days.

Lisbon, Aug. 27—(Special)—Alex. Wells, of Wellsville, who is in his 95th year, is visiting at the home of his son, W. G. Wells, in this city. Mr. Wells is in the enjoyment of the best of health and told to a number of court officials this morning of his first remembrance of witnessing punishment by order of the court when the prisoner was given nine lashes on his back at the whipping post.

The court then was a log structure, located just west of the present building.

FLATTERING OFFERS COME TO MALEY

The Young Pitcher Gets Offers From Cincinnati and Boston.

HIS RECORD WAS WATCHED

And the Big League Teams Are Anxious That He Should Finish the Season With Them—He Has the Offers Under Consideration.

East Liverpool has another offer to put one of its base ball players in the big league. Lawrence Maley, the "boy" pitcher, who has been brought out in this city during the present season, last evening received a telegram from Joe Kelly, manager of the Cincinnati National league team, asking the Liverpool boy if he would finish the season with the aggregation.

As if the managers of the big teams allowed their minds to travel in the same channel, a letter was received this morning from the manager of the Boston National league team, asking Maley to finish the season with that team. The managers of the big league have in their hands a record of the work of Maley since he began playing with the East Liverpool team, and it was a study of this which caused the offer.

Maley was seen at his work at the Buckeye pottery this afternoon and stated that he had not as yet made up his mind whether or not he would accept either of the offers. He has a good paying position as mouldmaker, which he would probably lose if he left for five or six weeks.

However, if arrarngements can be made in regard to his position it is probable that he will accept one or the other of the offers. Maley is only 18 years of age, and a number of his friends have advised him to wait another year at least before branching out.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

HE WRITES OF FRAUD.

Jerome James, of Boston, in a recent issue of an eastern trade paper, writes as follows about the supposed frauds, relative to the undervaluation of imported crockery. It is indeed an interesting communication, and in part follows: "The question of fraud in the undervaluation of imports is important to all good citizens. The administrative sections of the tariff laws are made drastic to insure the effective collection of the revenue, and should be inforced to the extent of ferreting out and punishing those who seek to evade the proper payment of duties. Every honest and intelligent importer should co-operate with the domestic manufacturers, who compete against the foreign article, in securing honest work at the custom house; else the honest importer, when put in competition with the fraudulent one, would be put out of business and probably in the bankruptcy court. On Sunday last a New York paper had a startling piece of news about the discovery of fraud in the importation of pottery to the extent of millions; that it ran back for years, and fully twenty millions of dollars had been defrauded; all of which, if true, was alarming to those who believe in honest government.

"In the more than forty years I have been in the pottery business ther has been the periodical cry of undervaluation and fraud by importers in this line, and several important trials, the last one on English pottery, was in Cleveland's administration, when Daniel Manning was secretary of the treasury (as Secretary Shaw is now). All crates coming into the ports of New York and Philadelphia were held up pending the investigation, which covered several weeks, under Appraiser Moore, of Philadelphia, and it resulted in the complete vindication of the importers. Several years since, when hearings were had before the Ways and Means committee, the question of fraud by undervaluation came up, and the best statistics that were produced under Schedule B, pottery and glass revealed less than one per cent. undervaluation. When the former merchant appraiser system was in vogue I served many times as merchant appraiser with the United States appraiser, and when we dsagreed the Collector of the Port decided it; but the trails rarely revealed any important difference. When the "Moiety" law was in vogue the incentive to charge and prove fraud was greater than now, but the charges were usually based upon the suspicion of competitors. I have taken this space to resent the suspicion that is cast upon every importer by such gross charges as that in the New York paper of last Sunday, but which was neutralized by the prompt answer quoted above by Secretary Shaw of Washington. The United States Board of Appraisers are an efficient body, backed by the whole treasury and judicial departments of the Government. Let us trust that, notwithsatnding the temptation that follows an excessively high tariff on imports, the integrity and efficiency of the revenue will be maintained."

A SEVERE TEST.

In a recent issue of the London Pottery Gazette, there appeared the following: "One of the features of the present moment in the ceramic world is the continuous increase in the use of chromo-lithographic decoration on pottery. In transfers the progress has been great; today the productions are excellent, full of life and vigor, showing the touch of the skilled artist's hand, putting completely into the shade the crude printing and filling in which has so long held the market in on glaze work. The trasfers are also of equal value from the user's point of view. They wear as well as painted work, although some interested parties have circulated a report to the contrary. Those of us who are acquainted with the different methods know how absurd this idea is. The colors are the same. It is quite immaterial whether the colors are laid upon the ware with a brush or with a piece of paper; given a proper kiln fire the one is just as durable as the other. Some time ago a few of the principal potters, being anxious to determine the question, initiated and carried through a series of severe tests consisting of boiling, scrubbing, rubbing, etc., ware, and proved to their satisfaction that the transfers were most durable and in no way inferior to painted ware. The use of transfers will increase in the future and become the principal source of decoration for ware for useful purposes, a fact which our retail dealers will do well to bear in mind. For the present, these transfers are almost solely in enamel or on glaze-color; progress in the use of underglaze colors is very slow and tenative, but there is progress, and in time we believe the difficulties will be overcome."

BITS FROM TRENTON.

Improvements are being made to the plant of the Trenton Fire Clay & Porcelain Co. A new stack and a couple of kilns are now in course of construction.

George Austin, formerly manager of a pottery in the city of Mexico, has accepted a position in the decorating department of the Old Greenwood pottery.

A new shape on cover pieces has been placed on the market in the dinner ware line by the Glasgow. It was designed by Howard B. Moses.

The Mercer Pottery Co., is getting out a new toilet set, and has several of the pieces finished. Those who have seen it declare the set will be popular.

The reports coming in from the representatives of the Trenton potteries now on the road seem to indicate that the stocks all over the country are exceedingly low and a heavy fall trade may be looked for.

The Old Greenwood pottery meets with great difficulty in getting hard coal to fire the kilns, and much inconvenience is caused thereby. Soft coal does not answer the purpose of firing vitrified china as it does in general ware so it is claimed.

Lou Brown, formerly traveling man for the Trenton Potteries Co., and now manager of the new Buffalo pottery, writes that the work on that plant is well under way and the first kiln will likely be fired about October 1. The output of the plant will be toilet, dinner and specialties.

JIGGERMEN'S MEETING.

The special meeting held by jiggermen's local No. 12 last evening was one of the most interesting that has been held for months. The attendence was much larger than usual, but this was due to the fact that some special matters were to be talked over, relative to the establishing of a uniform day's work. It will be remembered that the purpose of the special meeting was told exclusively in this paper Monday evening, and yesterday the story was read with interest. The matter of having the jiggermen place a limit on their work was discussed at length last evening, and resulted in a committee composed of John Reark, Frederick Sheedy, Charles Hanley, Lute Smith and Frank Gratton being appointed to investigate the question. As soon as the regular meeting adjourned, the special committee met and formed an organization, and it is thought they will be able to make some sort of a report of their work at their meeting next week. The question is a most interesting one and will be investigated thoroughly.

NEED WORKMEN HERE.

Good pottery workers experience no trouble at all in finding employment at New Castle, Pa. The potteries in that town have a rush of orders which will keep them busy for some time. The same conditions prevail in this city and it is no trouble for a good pottery workman to secure a good position right at home.

MACHINERY SHIPPED.

By the latter part of this week all the machinery for the pottery which is to be erected at Crooksville will have been completed at the Patterson foundry in this city. Part of the machinery has already been sent to Crooksville and the remainder will be shipped about the first of the coming week.

GOOD TRADE IN SIGHT.

In a recent interview Charles Howell Cook, the well-known manufacturer, said: "The outlook is for a good pottery trade this fall. This is a matter of congratulation not only to the manufacturers but to the operatives as will. Everybody is better satisfied and much better off when trade is good."

WORKMEN SCARCE.

T. H. Bradshaw, of the Niles Pottery Co., arrived in the city this morning for a few days' business visit. He states that business with the new pottery at Niles is good and that the only trouble he has is in securing workmen. As this has been the cry every place, Mr. Bradshaw considers himself lucky that he is able to keep a full crew of first class workers.

GIVEN A CHAIR.

Charles D. Geller, who for 23 years has been shipping clerk at the Greenwood pottery, Trenton, N. J., severed his connection with that plant last week to go into the cooperage business. He was substantially remembered by the office force, being presented with a handsome Morris chair.

ORGANIZING PRESSERS.

Vice-President Hutchins, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, at Trenton, is now devoting his efforts toward forming a local of the general ware pressers. No meetin of the men in this branch has been held, but Mr. Hutchins is endeavoring to bring them togeteher.

MERE HISTORY.

In the pottery department of a local paper last evening there appeared eight items about that trade. Out of this number two could be considered fresh news. The other six appeared in these columns from a week to 10 days ago. Imitators make poor copyists.

RESUMED OPERATIONS.

Owing to the overflowing of the Assanpink creek and the canal at Trenton, the following potteries were compelled to shut down: Anchor, Bellmark, Equitable, Empire, Keystone and Acme potteries. All have resumed operations.

Cholera Morbus.

This is an extremely dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from it, and in many instances before a physician could be summoned or medicine obtained. Mrs. E. H. Delano, of Durant, Mich., is subject to severe attacks of cholera morbus. During the past four years she has kept at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and says it has always given her quick relief. During this time she has used two bottles of it. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. The safe way is to keep it at hand ready for instant use. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

CAPITAL BOMBARDED.

Columbian Warship Shells the City of Ciudad Bolivar, and Many Persons Killed and Wounded.

Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar, capital of the state of Bolivar, has been bombarded by a Columbian government warship, and many persons were killed or wounded. The place had a large British population, and the British subjects have requested that a warship of Great Britain be sent for their protection. It is alleged that atrocities have been committed at Ciudad Bolivar by both the government troops and the revolutionists.

WANT A FLAG

Members of the O. U. A. M. Can't Undestand Why There is None at Horace Mann Building.

Why is it that some of the members of the board of education pay no attention to the requests of the O. U. A. M. of the East End, who desire to erect a flag in front of the Horace Mann school, is more than some members of the order can understand. This school has been opened for more than a year, and there is not a semblance of a flag about the building. There is a state law governing these matters.

One member of Ohio Valley council, No. 23, O. U. A. M., this morning said that he had talked to members of the board of education about the placing of a flag on the building, but he could get no satisfaction from any member. The East End council is willing and only too anxious to either place a pole in front of the new school and permit the board to buy the flag, or vice versa, the council will buy the flag if the board will erect the pole. Its members argue that something should be done.

BROKE A LAMP

Excitement at the Revival Meeting Led to Some Confusion.

There was all sorts of excitement at the Free Methodist revival meeting at the Neville institute last evening, and it came near resulting in the destruction of the building by fire. The attendance at these meetings is great. Long before the meeting commences the little school room is packed almost to suffocation. Still, with all this the religious spirit seems to be there, and last night excitement ran high. There were said to be four conversions at the meeting. While one good brother stood up on a seat and said a few words, throwing his hands through the air over his head, down came one of the large lamps. When the lamp fell with a crash, confusion reigned supreme for a time.

The lamp fell down between a seat and the legs of a workman of the Laughlin pottery. This man was very alert, picked the broken lamp up and cast it out of a window. Then the meeting proceeded, although the room was a little darker than before.

Race for $50 Purse.

A horse race for a purse of $50 a side will take place at Columbian park one week from next Monday. It will be for blood from the start. It came about through a few remarks made at the East End station yesterday. H. L. Bradman owns a horse he calls Dan W. Larkins & Ferguson own a horse called Virginia Girl, and the merits of these two horses has been discussed at length by their owners. Arguments became so warm that a race was arranged, and now all sorts of wagers are being made on the result. Those who claim to know the merits of the two horses say Virginia Girl will win.

New Bridge Completed.

At last the bridge on Virginia avenue have been completed, and the thanks of the citizens of that part of the city are presented to Street Commissioner Frank Dickey. The last of the work of filling in of the approaches to the bridge was completed yesterday afternoon, and a fence or guard rail has been placed on the south side of the bridge along the bank of the run, which is spanned by the bridge. The improvement is one that has been long needed, and is greatly appreciated, especially by teamsters.

Fire in the 'Squire's Office.

A small fire occurred in the office of Justice L. W. Carman yesterday, but luckily not much damage was done. How the fire started no one seems to know, for there was no one in the office at the time. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Fulton, who lives on the same floor as Mr. Carman. She smelled smoke, which caused her to make an investigation. A table cloth was burned and some law books were scorched.

To Confer First Degree.

A number of applications will be presented at a meeting of Ohio Valley Council, No. 25, O. U. A. M., tomorrow evening, and after these are considered the first degree is expected to be conferred upon a number of new members. The lodge is one of the most interesting in the East End, and since it removed into the new hall on First avenue its membership has been increasing rapidly.

Attended a Funeral.

After spending a few weeks with relatives in western Pennsylvania and also attending the funeral of a sister, Mrs. W. J. Terrence, of First avenue, returned to her home today. She was met at Pittsburg by Mr. Terrence, who accompanied her home.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

The little children of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marshall spent today in Beaver visiting relatives.

Miss Blanche Fredericks, of New Brighton, and Miss Lulu Lloyd, of Fallston, were in the East End yesterday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. King, of St. George street.

Harold, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Haney, of First avenue, who has been ill with pneumonia for several days, is recovering, and it is expected he will be able to be out in a few days.

Assistant Street Commissioner Howard, of the East End, has opened Irwin street, from Ohio avenue to St. George street. This is the first street east of the new residence of Councilman Thomas.

Salineville, August 27.—The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Nixon, a highly respected lady of 88 years, who died at Sewickley, Pa., occurred Sunday from the home of the late Postmaster Henry Nixon. She was born in Ireland and had lived in Salineville for over over 50 years. She had resided in Sewickley only about two years. The funeral service were conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. M. He was present at the reunion of the two Carroll county companies held in Alliance, Company A, Thirty-second O. V. I., and the Twenty-sixth Independent battery, O. V. I., Only six of his company, A, were present, and 26 of the latter. They adjourned to meet the third Thursday of August, 1903, in Alliance.

Fred S. Bunn, a pharmacist of Youngstown, is prostrated at the home of his parents in this town with a serious attack of inflammatory rheumatism, while his wife is at their home in Youngstown slowly recovering from the effects of an operation in the city hospital on August 18. Mr. Bunn realized that he was on the verge of having a serious attack of that dread disease, and having no one to care for him took the first train to Salineville for the home of his mother, where he is now in a helpless condition. His wife has since been removed to her home in the care of her mother, Mrs. R. G. Thompson, who will bring her to Salineville as soon as she is able to travel.

county to talk over the code. The former thinks the plan a good one and favors an adjournment being taken to give the members a chance to return and explain the bill to their constituents. He believes a week or so should be allowed for this purpose.

Under the code, all cities under 25,000 will have a mayor, three members of a board of public service, auditor, treasurer, four members of a board of public safety, police judge and police clerk and solicitor. Members from the counties and districts containing small towns say the municipalities which they represent can get along very well without any boards, auditor, police judge and police clerk. They argue these additional adjuncts will increase the burden of taxation.

The Nash code was introduced in the senate yesterday by Mr. Longworth, of Hamilton, and in the house by Mr. Comings, of Lorain. Speaker McKinnon appointed 23 members, 15 Republicans and 8 Democrats, a special committee to consider the bill. They will go over its provisions carefully, listen to hearings from the public on the measure and will submit a report to the house, recommending what action, in their judgment, should be taken. Metzgar, of Stark, and Maag, of Mahoning, were among those appointed on the committee. Six bills were introduced in the house yesterday.

Guerin, of Sandusky, introduced three, one curing the defect in the Royer act, taking away jurisdiction from the supreme court, and two others affecting pleadings and appeals. McNamee, of Franklin, introduced his pet measure, which was defeated last winter, to knock out the relief departments of the Pennsylvania and B. & O. railroads. Maag, of Mahoning, presented a bill to repeal the act allowing the clerk of the supreme court to have all the records in cases printed. This measure was rusned through on the last day of the recent session. It takes away from the attorneys the right to have their printing done at home. The senate was the scene of some excitement. Thompson, of Franklin, attempted to introduce a bill to repeal the Jones act relieving railroads from the necessity of keeping up arc lights at street crossings, but Longworth moved that the measure be rejected because it did not refer to either of the subjects mentioned in the governor's message. He thought it would be an act of discourtesy to the governor to introduce the bill.

Senator Decker stated the people of the state were demanding the repeal of the bill and that they should be considered. He hoped the bill would be received. Senators Archer and Stillwell took the same view. The matter of the rejection of the measure was deferred until today.

Senator Hanna arrived here last evening. Foraker is expected later. Representative Buell left for Salem Tuesday night, having secured leave of absence until a week next Monday. The senator says he came merely to discuss the code and will be here but a short time.

William Horne, who has been a resident of Salem for 36 years, stopped off at the state capital yesterday while going home from Indiana, where he attended a reunion of his old regiment, the Fiftieth Indiana infantry. The command met at Whitehall. It was the first time Mr. Horne had met his comrades since the close of the war.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1902.

CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

For Congress--JAMES KENNEDY of Youngstown.

An "apple congress" is to be held in St. Louis in November. Its object is to encourage orcharding and to extend knowledge of the subject. Such a congress would not be a bad idea in Columbiana county, which is right in the fruit belt, and where the very best of apples can be produced, perhaps with as little labor as anywhere on earth. Farmers have found by experience that they need mutual aid in ascertaining the true value of their crop and in exchanging the latest cultural facts. Properly speaking there can be no "glut" of apples when there are nearly 80,000,000 people at home craving them and all Europe is ready to buy them at good prices. What is called "glut" is merely imperfect distribution. The apples produced in this country have become famous throughout the world, and by proper attention to their cultivation and sale, farmers will soon be enabled to reap large profits from them. The matter has received less attention than its importance warrants, and the coming congress will do a good work if it awakens the producers to their opportunities.

The city council and the mayor are to be commended for their efforts to have the ordinances regulating railway traffic in the city enforced. The Horn switch, though very necessary to the business interests of the city, is a danger spot and too many precautions cannot be taken to prevent accidents in running freight cars over it.

Sam Small, temperance lecturer, is reported to have confessed that he was drunk at Bratteleboro, Vt., and could not lecture. "I have no excuse to offer," he says. Right you are, Samuel. Men who get drunk have been framing excuses since the world began, but a reasonable excuse has never been found.

Customs receipts under the Dingley law are greater than they were last year and current figures of government revenue and expenditures show that the increase is needed. The Dingley law has proved itself to be a masterpiece of practical statesmanship.

The production of precious metals is still far from being the most profitable industry in the country. The United States produced only $78,000,000 worth of gold and $33,000,000 worth of silver last year.

The war game seems to be more expensive than interesting. Still it is probably necessary to give the tar something to do occasionally or Jack would speedily become a dull boy.

Interest in the coming Democratic state convention is a minus quantity. The same will be the case with the Democratic campaign.

Mount Pelee, like Bryan, cannot drop the erupting habit, even after it has done all the damage that seemed possible.

Col. Watterson is as vehement in his denunciation of Grover Cleveland as if the ex-president were a candidate for office.

Having failed to get the executive's orders to go to the Philippines, General Miles will now go under his own.

President Roosevelt has been praising Tom Reed and is now solid with his Maine constituents forevermore.

Trusts continue to multiply in Great Britain, despite the claim that protective tariff fosters them.

The head of the army and the navy attracts vastly more attention in the east than all the warships.

President Roosevelt favors letting the trusts live so long as they behave themselves.

A MINISTER'S BUSY WIFE.

Pe-ru-na a Prompt and Permanent Cure for Nervousness.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, Galesburg, Ill.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, recent superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-Seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's, as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY.

general traffic. F. E. Grosshans was present, and stated that Mr. McKinnon would be willing to build the bridge and place monument stones in position, and on the strength of this promise the plat was accepted.

Three bids had been received for the furnishing of street signs, and upon opening them it was found that the one submitted by George M. Adam, of this city, was much the cheaper. Two others were opened, both from out of town firms, but the council favored Mr. Adams' sample, it being deemed much more desirable on account of the size of the letter. Mr. Adams' figure was 33 1-3 cents each delivered or 46 cents placed in position. The order was given for 1,000 signs, and the contractor will place them upon the corners.

A communication was received from the hospital association with reference to the acceptance of its plat of lots on the Calcutta road. The letter was signed by W. A. Calhoun, superintendent of the hospital, and stated if the council would accept the addition at once the association would bind itself to stand good for the grading when the council at any time may direct the same to be done. The letter covered the same question that was raised in the McKinnon addition. The lots had but recently been laid out, and it being the desire of the association to realize on them as speedily as possible, it was impossible to do any grading before the plat was accepted. The members thought the guarantee was sufficiently binding, and when the vote was taken it showed every member in favor of complying with the request.

Solicitor McGarry informed the council that a dispute had arisen among several of the residents of Grant street over the amount of paving they would have to pay for. The case he desired to cite was that of Baz Rowe, who had let the contract for laying a sidewalk at his property. He had paid for that portion of the pavement which extends past his property line and forms the corner. He found out a little later that it was the city's place to pay for this work, and now a law suit was apparently unavoidable. Mr. Barlow was very well posted on the matter and explained that the engineer had instructed Rowe to let the contract in the manner followed out by him. Barlow stated it was all the engineer's fault, and when someone laughed he rmarked in stern tones: "You needn't laugh, this is no laughing matter; it's strictly business." The engineer will look after the tangle.

Mr. Peach presented a motion to order the residents of Chestnut street from Pleasant street to its terminus to pave their sidewalks. The city had graded the street for their accommodation, and it was now time they do some paving. The motion prevailed.

Right at this point the council devoted considerable time to a discussion of the roller question. The city at one time owned a roller, or part of one. Contractor Rinehart had asked permission to have the machine repaired. The request was grante and the contractor expended something like $36 on repairs. He has had possession of the roller ever since. Mr. Bullock explained it was now in Wellsville. He thought it was needed here, and moved the street commissioner be instructed to have the roller returned to the city at once. Mr. Peach argued against the motion, but the majority of the members thought Rinehart had probably used the apparatus long enough to pay for any outlay he may have made years ago. The roller belonged in this city and the motion carried, Mr. Peach alone voting no.

Mr. Johnston reported the committee appointed to buy a team of horses had succeeded in securing one, paying therefor $225. The committee, which is made up of Johnston, Peach and Marshall, was continued with instructions to match up the team.

The sidewalk in front of the Myers and Metz properties on Fifth street had not been laid acccording to the instructions of the engineer, and Mr. Bullock moved the latter officer be instructed to relay it. President Nice wanted to know who was going to pay the bill. Bullock supposed the city would, but Nice did not agree with him. The president said: "If that sidewalk is not as it should be the engineer is responsible. The resolution to improve sidewalks distinctly states the work shall be done under the supervision of the city engineer, and if there is extra expense connected with this matter the paid employes of this city, who are responsible for the error, will pay the bill. The engineer has a good bond and can be made to pay. You can make the change if you like, but the city will not pay for it, I tell you that."

There remarks were made in an emphatic manner, and no one doubted that he meant what he said. Those who had interested themselves sufficientiy to investigate thought it had been the contractors who were responsible, and since payment for the improvement had been withheld the engineer was instructed to have the Rineharts do the work over again.

A petition was presented asking that 130 feet on Peach alley be paved. The property owners had signed the petition waiving all rights and agreeing to pay all the expense of the work. The request was granted.

Mr. Johnston made mention of the conduct of the men in charge of the shifting engine in the upper yards. Mayor Davidson made a few tellling remarks, and he, with the marshal, will enforce the law prohibiting flying switches in the corporation.

McConnell stated school would start next week, and there was a foot bridge crossing Tanyard run near the West End pottery that ought to be repaired. There were several hundred school children who attended the Sixth street school, all of whom used the bridge. The short cut saved several hundred yards of a walk. He moved the street commissioner be ordered to make the needed repairs. The motion was adopted.

After an invitation to participate in the Labor day parade had been accepted by the council, adjournment was taken at 10:35.

WELLSVILLE

PAID FIREMEN

Mayor Fogo Desires to See An Up-to-Date Department in Wellsville.

Mayor W. L. Fogo is at the head of a project to establish a combination paid fire department and street gang here. He states that when the city bought the building at the corner of Fifth and Main streets it should have bought it for city purposes alone, instead of allowing other people to rent rooms in it. The mayor states that the building must have been purchased as a source of revenue which should not have been the case. He thinks that the water works office shuld be where the Bell telephone office is and that a hospital and a small cell for female prisoners should be where the water works office is. He thinks that sleeping apartments for a paid fire department and street gang should be where the Columbiana county telephone office now is and that a brass pole should be run from the second floor to the fire department on the first floor directly beneath, making fine fire department quarters.

The Columbiana county telephone company will either have to pay an increase of $5 per month or vacate the room which it occupies. It is predicted by city officials that the company will vacate. This will give the council a chance to take up the mayor's scheme. Mr. Fogo recently made the remark that the city ought to buy horses for the hose wagon and hook and ladder, and stable them in the rear of the hose room. He said that the city would then have a first class fire department and would also have horses which it could use in cleaning the streets.

A suggestion of this matter will probably be made to the council soon as something will have to be done at once relative to cleaning the streets. They are at present in a filthy condition.

Rural Route From Wellsville.

That a rural free delivery is soon to be established leading leading out of this city is now an assured fact. The postmaster has received notice that an agent will be at the postoffice tomorrow for the purpose of investigating the proposed establishment of a rural delivery route. An examination of a carrier and the establishment of an eligible register for free delivery service will be arranged. It is expected that there will be at least twenty-five applicants on deck tomorrow morning. The farmers near the city are very enthusiastic over the matter.

The Women's Foreign Missionery Society of the M. E. church held a meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Daugherty, on Nevada street. Following the talk a social session was held which was thoroughly enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

BUT ONE AFFIDAVIT

For the Position of Carrier on the New Rural Delivery Route.

Special Examiner Agent George Pate, of the postoffice department, conducted the examination for the carriers for the free rural delivery route to the north from this city yesterday afternoon. Only one applicant appeared. The papers are being forwarded to Washington and the appointment of the carrier will have to be made from that place.

Examiner Pate states that the route will make a short circuit through the farming district to the north of the city. It is for the purpose of giving free delivery to the district and the carrier will not carry the mail to the rural postoffices. He expects that a number of other rural routes will soon be laid out in Columbiana county.

BEYOND A DOUBT

Good Hard Facts—Told in As Few Words as Possible.

Mrs. Geo. Hall of 359 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "I was bilious, my head ached hard and constantly, there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so getting them at Larkins' Drug Store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness was overcome, the headache cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I can vouch for in burns as a fine application."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

CURED BY

LIFE PLANT

Dennison, Ohio.

Life Plant Co.

Messrs:—LIFE PLANT is a wonder cure!—After a siege of ten years of that dread disease, Catarrh of the head, and the failure of all other treatments, I was induced by my employer, Mr. C. W. Bell of this place, dealer in groceries, to try LIFE PLANT. The first bottle gave relief, and when I had taken two more, was free from and cured of Catarrh. I write you the above and hope you will publish it for the benefit of those who are suffering from the effects of that dread disease. LIFE PLANT is a great remedy. Yours Respectfully,

FRED KNAUS.

Mrs. Rev. J. C. Castle, of Smith's Ferry, Penn., writes:—After suffering for about thirty years with Catarrh I believe I am entirely cured by the use of a few bottles of LIFE PLANT.

Mr. F. Hurst, father of Hurst Brothers, Grocers, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says:—

A member of my family for six years or more, has had a severe case of Catarrh in the head and throat, causing nervous prostration, with so much pain and roaring in the head, that the hearing had become materially affected, the stomach deranged and the appetite gone, and with a feeling of prostration and lassitude. Was cured by the use of LIFE PLANT more than a year ago and the trouble has not returned.

New Philadelphia, O., April 25, 1900.

Life Plant Co.,

Messrs:—I was attacked last August with a very serious and painful form of stomach trouble which gave me no rest by day and very little sleep at night. I used numerous remedies without any beneficial results. I was unable to do any kind of work. I was in constant misery with pain in stomach, which was increased, even by a slight pressure. For months I could not take any kind of food without suffering severe pain. This condition continued until I commenced to use LIFE PLANT. I have taken six bottles and am now a well man, can do a full day's work, eat all kinds of food and feel no inconvenience.

Yours etc., Frederick Dubaugh.

These cases and hundreds of others were permanently cured by LIFE PLANT, after all other remedies failed. If you have Cattarh in any form and are not cured after giving LIFE PLANT a fair trial, your money will be refunded.

ROOSEVELT HISTORIC

President Slept in Room Made Famous by Great Statesman.

HIS ENUNCIATIONS OF THE DAY

Augusta, Me., August 27.—President Roosevelt yesterday passed through three states, delivered eight speeches. At Haverhill, Mass., the crowds overrode the police and surrounded the president's carriage, making it difficult for it to advance. As the president was about to board his car at South Lawrence, Mass., the leader of the band stepped up and made himself known to him. He said his name was Panan, a former cow puncher, and barber at Medura, N. D., where the president's ranch is located. The president immediately recognized him and greeted him as an old friend. The man said to him: "You said to me to get married and settle down and I him jointly with W. Arnett, an In which afforded the president no little amusement.

Conspicuous among those who boarded the train at Old Orchard to extend a welcome to the president was Congressman Littlefield, of Rockland. His visit was brief, and the conversation turned on other subjects than trusts.

The day was a particularly hard one on the president, but he gave slight signs of fatigue. Last night he was the guest of Governor Hill. The Governor's house has become historic because of the fact that it was the home of James G. Blaine, and the president occupied last night the identical bedroom used by that statesman.

Sacramento, Cal., August 27.—The Republican state convention yesterday adopted a platform deploring the death of President McKinley. The administration of President Roosevelt was endorsed and he was especially thanked for his support of measures peculiarly beneficial to the interests of the Pacific coast, such as the reclamation of arid lands, the exclusion of Chinese and the Isthmian canal legislation.

The convention endorsed the "firm but enlightened policy pursued in the Philippines, which has secured peace in the islands," and urged that "Contention over our policy in the Philippines should now cease, and the beneficent plans of the civil government be given the united and cordial support of all the people."

The convention recommends that liberal pension provisions be made for the soldiers and widows of the late civil war, and of the war with Spain.

On trusts the convention expresses itself as follows: "We condemn all conspiracies and combines to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production, or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers and all who are engaged in industry and commerce, and we approve and commend the efforts of President Roosevelt to enforce the laws against illegal combinations in restraint of trade and pledge him our hearty support in all his efforts to protect the people from all oppressive combinations of capital."

STILL PLAYING AT WAR.

Army of Defense Bristles Itself Over Approach of Imaginary Foe.

Newport, R. I., August 27.—The warming up exercises of the army of the defense of this vicinity became quite brisk yesterday, with almost continuous target practice from daylight to dark and a general alarm over an imaginary foe this evening.

Last night, shortly before 8 o'clock, came the roll of the drum and the scurry of troops to the parapets. Searchlight practice was kept up for some time after. The little flying squadron of torpedo boats arrived early this morning from the eastward

ENGLAND'S NEW BURDEN.

Though Boers Surrender, Troops Are Needed in the Transvaal.

Johannesburg, August 27.—A strong force of British troops has been dispatched to the western border of the Transvaal, ostensibly to relieve troops ordered to India, but it is currently reported that this step is taken owing to disturbances among the natives. Rumors are also current here of an intention to annex or establish a protectorate in Swaziland, where a strong force of constabulary is now posted

Reading's Private Engine Wrecked.

Reading, Pa., August 27.—The Reading Railroad company's private engine, the Ariel, was wrecked in a cut at MortonVille, three miles south of Coatesville, on the Wilmington & Northern railroad, at noon yesterday. It jumped the track while going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. General Superintendent W. A. Garrett and Superintendent James Turk, of the Reading and Columbia division, of this city, were hurled to the floor. John H. Bradford, the engineer, and George W. Rockthasel, the fireman, were pinned fast in the wreck, and both were considerably injured and scalded. Garrett and Turk, though cut and bruised, were able to walk.

TWO FLED TO DEATH

LOST CONTROL OF MACHINE RESULTS IN FATALITIES.

Priest Among Those Hurt—Party Out for Pleasure, Meets Serious Mishap.

Long Branch, N. J., August 27.—Four persons went flying down an embankment with a big Rhodersnyder machine at Elberon shortly after 2 p. m., yesterday afternoon with fatal results. The dead are:

Frank J. Matthews, of eJrsey City, 40 years old.

Mrs. Cobb, of Richmond, Va., 32 years old.

The injured are:

Mrs. Louis Pizzini, at the Monmouth Memorial hospital suffering from a fractured leg and shock.

Rev. Father Grant, of the Paulist Fathers, New York, who injured his leg and is also suffering from shock.

Rudolph Meyer, the chauffeur, who escaped with an injured leg.

The five occupants of the big machine were moving toward Ocean avenue when the accident happened. They were out for a pleasure trip, having come from Deal, where Mr. Matthews has a summer home. Mr. Matthews was in charge of the machine, which was a new one, having been purchased a few days ago at a cost of $9,000. The chaffeur was occupying his seat on the step.

Where the road passes over the tracks of the New York & Long Branch railroad is a most dangerous spot, and care is always exercised by drivers. The tracks of the Atlantic Coast trolley road are first crossed. After crossing the trolley tracks Mr. Matthews lost control of his machine. William H. Havens, who is a gardener for C. C. Minzesheimer, of Bath avenue, was on the street when Mr. Matthews and his party approached. He noticed that the big machine was swerving and in his efforts to get out of the way he was run into and knocked down, but not seriously hurt.

The chaffeur was on the step, and seeing the accident was sure to come jumped and saved his life. The tracks of the New York & Long Branch railroad are below at a distance of 35 feet. The railing gave way to the pressure of the big machine, which turned a somersault as it went down. Mr. Matthews was underneath the wreck and was pinioned fast. His death was almost instantaneous. Mr. Matthews' hip was broken as was one of his legs.

The dead body of Mr. Matthews was at once removed from the tracks and taken to the morgue of Hyers Flock, where it is now being prepared for burial. The central train, due at Long Branch at 2:30, was approaching at the time of the accident, and had it been delayed a few minutes would have crushed into the party. As it was the two injured women were taken aboard and conveyed on stretchers to the hospital. The unfortunate women were sisters, being residents of Richmond, Va. Mrs. Cobb lingered until a little before 5 o'clock, when she died. She suffered internal injury.

The party left the Holloway inn a few minutes before th tragedy for a pleasure trip. Father Grant escaped serious injury. He was taken to his room at the Hathway inn, where he is being attended by Dr. J. H. Bryan. Mrs. Pizzini is resting well and will recover. Mr. Matthews has been president of the National Realty company, of Jersey City.

Sam Had No Excuse.

Brattleboro, Vt., August 27.—The collapse of the Rev. Sam Small, the convened in Asociation hall this was to speak for the "No License-Local Option party" here last night, by Rev. Mr. Small's own admission was due to intoxication. Mr. Small says: "I was drunk. I have no excuse to offer."

Aunt and Niece Asphyxiated.

New York, August 27.—Mrs. Josephine Vollmer, 51 years old, and her 22-year-old niece, Mary Miller, were found dead in bed at their home yesterday. They had been asphyxiated by illuminating gas. A coroner said the case was one of homicide and suicide. Relatives of the dead woman believe that she was demented.

New Torpedo Boats Accepted.

Washington, August 27.—The navy department today accepted the torpedo boats DeLong and Wilkes, which have had their final trials. The torpedo boat Decatur will have her final trial on Saturday, and the preliminary trial of the destroyer Barry will occur the same day.

Klondike Stock Waning.

Washington, August 27.—The golden star of the Klondike is on the wane. The state department states that the total yield of the Klondike last year was $24,000,000, and that the production of the coming year will not exceed $14,000,000. No new discoveries have been made for over a year.

NO ONE KNEW JONES

Chicago Again Comes to the Center With the Usual Old Murder Mystery.

HE HAD A NEPHEW WITH HIM

This Person Caused Rumor to be Circulated That Aged Man Was Dead, But Neighbors& Were Ignorant of Funeral Obsequies.

Chicago, August 27.—Peculiar circumstances surrounding the reported death of Philetus Jones, represented as a Boston millionaire and engaged in a large real estate deal in Chicago, came to the notice of the police yesterday. Notices in last Saturday's papers told of the sudden death of Mr. Jones from heart disease, at the residence of a nephew, on Astor street, but neither the name of the nphew nor the street number was given. The police have found no one here who knew Mr. Jones excepting John A. I. Lee, through whom, as agent, Mr. Jones was reported to be negotiating the purchase of certain property.

By Mr. Lee it was said that the body had been shipped to Boston, but no record of the death can be found in the health department offices here, nor have the officials issued a permit for the removal of the body from the state. Lee says that Mr. Jones was accompanied by a nephew, Mr. Alton by name. Mr. Lee says that an agreement to purchase the property within a specified time was signed by Jones and that on August 23 he received a note from Alton announcing the death of Jones, in which it was said the body would be taken to Boston and that after the funeral Alton would return and complete the purchase.

Lee said Mr. Jones was a tall man with gray hair, mustache and beard He was 73 years old. The police learned that the house at 142 Astor street, in which Lee said Jones had lived, had been sold recently by the former owners to a stranger. The doors and windows of the house were locked, and it bore every evidence of having been closed for the summer. Neighbors said they did not know the new occupants of the house, but they were positive no funeral had been held there, and that no body had been taken away unless it had been done secretly. The detectives will investigate further the sale of the Astor street residence, and if shall be found to have been sold to Jones, it may be broken into and searched.

D. R. Thomas, an attorney, says that Lee was indebted to him for money loaned, legal fees and office rent, and to satisfy this debt Lee had assigned $1,100 of a commission to be received in the Jones real estate deal. The police have a theory that Philetus Jones is a myth.

REBELS ARE IN POWER.

Ciudad Bolivar in Hands of Revolutionists—Blame Put on British Government.

Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar is still in the power of the revolutionists. The town was fired upon day and night by the gunboats Bolivar and Restaurador, which attempted to land forces to re-occupy the place. About 600 shells were fired into the city. When the ammunition of the Restauruador was exhausted, she left for La Guaira to obtain additional supplies, after which the bombardment will be resumed.

There are no foreign warships in the Orinoco river to protect the interests of the powers, and the British government is being blamed in certain quarters for abandoning the 3,000 subjects of Great Britain who reside in the district of Ciudad Bolivar.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, August 27.—The Dutch government has notified Venezuela that it refuses to recognize the blockade of Venezuelan ports, as being non-effective.

THE GIRL IN GREEN.

We have seen the maid attired
All in red from top to toes;
We have seen her dressed in pink and white
And rivaling the rose;
We have seen the blue and purple,
But the latest thing we've seen
In the way of palpitations
Is the maiden dressed in green!

Hat, waist, skirt, shoes, gloves and belt, all
Of the purest shamrock hue,
With perhaps a dainty touch here
Of a little greenish blue,
And she musically brushes
All the dying fashions by,
With a verdant little twinkle
In her little greenish eye!

See her reigning on the boardwalk!
See her sailing up the street,
With a lot of fawning greenies
At her dainty green shod feet!
And exultant nature loudly
Warbles from the spreading tree,
"There she goes—the girl that gushes—
And she's patterned after me!"

Hail the newest thing in crazes!
Crown the latest color queen!
We're prepared to pass the laurels
To the giddy girl in green:
Yet in town or in the country
Or the seashore's sheltered nooks,
Paste this tip where you can see it:
"She's less verdant than she looks!"

It Might Prove Fatal.

Willing to Conform.

The rear seat in the open street car was comfortably filled already when the cheerful looking young man with the blond hair squeezed himself down between two portly consumers of nicotine.

"It seems to me," observed one of them presently, "that when there are plenty of other seats in the car it's an imposition for a man who isn't smoking to crowd in among the smokers."

"It isn't my fault that I'm not smoking," replied the blond young man, with his most engaging smile. "If you have another cigar in your pocket, I'll be glad to join you."

It was a superb exhibition of gall, but he got the cigar.—Chicago Tribune.

Impossible Thought.

"Oh, John, wake up!" she cried in the dead of night. "I've had such a dreadful nightmare!"

"What was it?" her husband asked sleepily.

NEAR HIS OLD HOME

THE RECEPTION TENDERED HIM

Worcester, Mass., August 27.—A magnificent reception was tendered Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles last night by Post 10, G. A. R. Eight hundred persons greeted the commanding general of the army. General Miles responded to the call for a speech, expressing his appreciation of the honor done him, and said that it was a pleasure to attend such a gathering in Worcester, which he considered as almost his home, as he was born and brought up so near.

After the reception he was entertained by the Worcester club, and then was driven to the state armory, where he saw a drill by Company A, of the State Militia, and in response to a call by Captain Edwin Barret, spoke to the members of the company. He left the city on the midnight train for West Point, where he goes to join his wife, who is paying a short visit to their son.

Alleged Strike Breakers Say They Were Unwarrantedly Detained in Cars.

Omaha, Neb., August 27.—Ten warrants were served on President Burt, of the Union Pacific railroad company, yesterday afternoon, charging him jointly with W. Arnett, an Indianapolis labor agent, with false imprisonment. The warrants were sworn out by ten men who allege they were hired by Arnett to work in the shops of the Union Pacific road at Denver. The warrants charge that each of the men was imprisoned in cars, and that they were not given their liberty until they reached the shop yards of the company in this city. President Burt acknowledged service, and filed a bond for his appearance in court tomorrow.

Lewis Lord, a member of the party, and who swore to the charges in one of the warrants, said the party had been employed by Arnett to go to work in the Union Pacific shops at Denver. He says that when they reached Council Bluffs they were locked in the cars, and armed guards were placed at the doors to prevent their escape. He says they were kept in the car until they reached the shop yards in this city, when they were given their liberty. Lord claims that some of the party were married men and left positions to take others here at better wages than they had been receiving, and were told that no strike existed on the road.

BOAST BROUGHT ARREST.

Andrew Haskins Got Himself Into Trouble by Proclaiming Slaying Ability.

Pittsburg, August 27.—Boasting in Philadelphia that he had killed a woman and would kill another, Andrew Haskins, a negro, gave the Pittsburg police a clew that led to his arrest Tuesday. The murder he bragged of was committed in Allegheny county, and last evening Detective James Steele, of Allegheny, went to Philadelphia with a coroner's commitment, charging Haskins with the murder of Ella Dennis, a negress, at Dooker's Hollow, October 5, 1899.

Haskins has been sought for by Pittsburg officers since the crime was committed, but although he has been heard from frequently he eluded arrest. Moday Superintendent Henry Muth, of Allegheny, received a telegram from Harry M. Quirk, superintendent of police of Philadelphia, saying that Haskins was in that city and had boasted of killing a woman. October 8, 1899, a coroner's jury held an inquest in the case of Ella Dennis and recommended that Haskins be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Tuesday morning Superintendent Muth telegraphed to Philadelphia the details of the affair, and last evening received another communication saying that Haskins was under arrest. The prisoner will be brought to Pittsburg.

The murder of Ella Dennis created a considerable sensation. She was 30 years old and lived near Turtle Creek. She was found in her home October 1 with evidences of having been beaten with a club. She was removed to the Woodville County home, where October 5 she died. Her story was that Haskins was her sweetheart. He quarreled with her and then left the house. Procuring a club, he returned and renewed the quarrel.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY. 25 Years in Ohio. 250,000 Cured.

Flaccus, of Wheeling, and Miss Jeannette Bailey, of Wheeling.

The four bridesmaids wore beautiful gows of pale blue muslin tucked and elaborately trimmed with white lace medallions. Each young lady wore a picture hat of the same hue as her gown and trimmed in forget-me-nots and each carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas tied with white satin ribbon.

Rev. Mr. Jordan and Rev. Mr. Gorrell followed and took their places just inside the bower. Then came the groom and his best man, Mr. Jefferson De Mont Thompson, of New York.

Following came Miss Ann Lee as maid of honor, who looked charming in a robe of Irish point lace over white chiffon drop skirt, which in turn was over a foundation of taffeta of the same color. She carried a shower bouquet of La France roses and wore a large picture hat of white tulle trimmed with a long white ostrich plume.

The ushers were in advance of the wedding party. They were Colonel Wilbur C. Brown, of New York; Mr. Earl Munson, of Wellsville; Mr. Harold Marshall, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Will Taylor, of this city. They, as well as the groom and best man, wore gray frock coats with trousers to match and gray suede gloves.

The bride, looking handsome, entered upon the arm of her father. She was magnificently attired in a gown of white satin crepe de chine, trimmed in rose point lace. The skirt, which was made with a habit back, had a full court train. The skirt was tucked in clusters of five-inch tucks, which were laid on the bias. A graduated flounce of the crepe de chine, edged with three folds, lent graceful curves to the skirt, which also had a deep yoke of the rose point. The waist was tucked solid with diagonal inch tucks. The yoke, which was quite deep and extended well down on the shoulders, was of the point lace with the rose designs appliqued over white chiffon. The sleeves, which were also tucked, had a large puff at the elbow, a tight under-sleeve finished with loops of the rose point forming a small cuff. White suede gloves were worn. The bridal veil was of white tulle and extended to the floor in the front and to the tip of the long train at the back. This was held in place by a snowy airgrette and a diamond crown, the latter a gift of the groom. The shoes were of white satin with large white rosettes.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was met by the officiating clergymen and the groom. The tableau at this point was most beautiful, and as the favorite Episcopal ceremony was being read the soft strains of "The Spring Song" and "In June" were played by the orchestra, making the ceremony still more impressive.

The final benediction ended and the usual congratulations offered the bridal party and guests partook of an elaborate wedding breakfast, served by Kuhn, of Pittsburg.

Mrs. Marshall, the mother of the bride wore a handsome gown of tan embroidered batiste over pink silk with real lace yoke, and elaborately trimmed with lace throughout.

Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, mother of the groom, wore an elegant imported costume of white pineapple silk over taffeta of the same color. The gown was made in princess fashion, the waist and yoke being shirred. The yoke was of Point-de-Venice lace and hand embroidered. The skirt, which was entraine, had elaborate designs of the point lace and silk embroidery. The sleeves were short and the lace with deep graduated ruffles of the pineapple silk. Long openwork silk gloves were worn. Mrs. Stafford's hat was of white French chip, trimmed in maline and ribbon velvet and encircled by a large white ostrich plume. She carried a white feather boa and wore diamond ornaments.

The gifts, which were arranged in a room on the second floor, attracted every one. They were both numerous and elegant. The groom's gifts to his bride were a magnificient tiara of diamonds, weighing 4 carats, and a large gold locket with diamond setting. The parents' gift were the furnishing complete for one of the rooms in the Knowles residence. From the groom's mother, Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, came a chest of small silver containing a hundred pieces.

Among other gifts from out of town friends were: Silver bronze hanging chandelabra, old Dutch clock, C. T. Hard company; a four-foot brass candle stick holder, Miss Adelaide Flaccus, Wheeling; silver fern dish, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilmore, New York; silver celery dish, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, New York; cut glass bowl on a mirror stand, Miss Rodriguez, New York; rose bowl, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Georgetown; handsome jardinier, Mrs. James Goodwin, New York; Venetian glass berry bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Knowles, California; silver tea set, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, New York; cut glass celery dish, Mr. Earl Munsen, Wellsville; cherry clock with heavy trimmings, Senator and Mrs. Oliver S. Marshall, New Cumberland; picture, Dr. and Mrs. N. C. Johnson, Allegheny; brass wall-piece, Miss Jeanette Bailey, Wheeling; hand painted bread plate, Miss Helen Upson, Mancfield; silver bon-bon dish, Dr. and Mrs. Fowler, New York; hand painted bon-bon dich, Mr. Earl Munson, Wellsville; brass candle sticks, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dowling, London, O.; full set of linens with bride's initials embroidered, Mrs. M. M. Gardner; silver sardine fork, Miss Sarriora, New Orleans; Dr. and Mrs. H. Baer, a Verna marton chair; Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley, a handsome screen.

Last evening Miss Marshall entertained her brides' maids at 7 o'clock dinner at her home. At this time she presented each young lady with a very pretty rose gold brooch with pearl setting. Her present to the maid of honor was a gold chain with pearl drop pendant. Mr. Knowles also entertained the best man and ushers at dinner last evening at his home on Broadway. His gifts to them were pearl scarf pins, and to the best man a gold cigarette case.

About 75 relatives and friends of the young couple were present. Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, mother of the groom; Miss Roderiguez, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, and Col. Wilbur C. Brown, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bliss, and Miss Bliss, of Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Marshall, New Cumberland; Mr. A. E. Tennant, Pittsburg; Mr. James G. Marshall, New Cumberland; and the Misses Johnson, of Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles left on a special car, "The Arcadia," attached to the four train for an eastern trip, including New York, Babylon, L. Is., Shelter Island. The bride's traveling gown was a handsome creation of dark blue broadcloth, trimmed with Irish lace. She wore a large tan hat. In the special car with the bride and groom were: Mrs. Ida Knowles Stafford, Miss Rodringuez, Col. Wilbur C. Brown, Mr. Jefferson D. Thompson, returning to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles will be at home at their residence on Broadway after September 25.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Great Rush to Hookstown—Over 100 rigs bound for the Hookstown fair crossed the bridge this morning.

Made Him Settle—John Rinehart was in Ravenna yesterday afternoon, looking after Victor Austin, a young man who had skipped his board bill. A warrant was secured for his arrest and Mr. Rinehart was deputized to serve it. The young man was badly frightened and very willingly paid the amount due.

A Pleasant Affair—James Jackson, a dipper at the K., T. & K., gave a smoker last evening to his gentlemen friends, at his home on Waterloo street. The evening was spent in music and games and fine refreshments were served. About 25 young men were present and had a most enjoyable time.

The Country Jay—A very large crowd was in attendance at the lecture given by Rev. Barney Tompkins at the McKinley avenue union chapel last night. The subject was "A Jay From the Country," and was of a humorous turn. The lecture was greatly enjoyed, and it is likely the congregation will secure the speaker for another number at a later date.

Will Visit East Palestine—The regular weekly meeting of General Garfield camp, Sons of Veterans, was held in G. A. R. hall last evening. An invitation to pay a fraternal visit to the camp at East Palestine on September 8 was read and accepted. The members of the Salem camp will also be at East Palestine on that date, and it is expected that a large number will be present from this city.

Pastor Jordan's Return—Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, arrived in the city last evening for the epurpose of performing the ceremony at the Marshall-Knowles wedding today. Mr. Jordan states that he is enjoying his vacation immensely. He will leave again this evening to continue it. The improvements at the church are progressing rapidly, and it is announced that services will be held in the church one week from next Sunday, when the pastor will have returned home.

MATERIAL HARD TO GET

More Building Work Would Be in Progress But for This Fact.

"The only reason that ther are enot a great deal more improvements being made in East Liverpoool this summer is that it has been impossible to secure the material with which to do the work," said a prominent contractor of the city. "I know of several potteries that would have liked to make improvements, but could not do so for the reason that the contractors were unable to take up the work.

"It is now a little easier to secure material, but it is too late to begin any large improvement. I predict that next year will see another big revival in the building business, and that the contractors will be just as busy as they have been this season."

A manufacturing potter who heard these statements said they were correct. His firm had contemplated making a number of extensive improvements, but that the contractors could give no assurance when it could be finished, and the firm could not run the risk of having several of the departments of the plant idle for any length of time.

A Man's Hand Is Caught And Comes Near Being Severed at the Wrist.

Guy Gibbons, a mechanic employed at the Chester tin mill, had his left hand so badly injured shortly before noon today that 15 stitches were required to pull the flesh together.

Gibbons boarded at the Rowe restaurant on Washington street and this morning said that he was not going to work, but proposed to go to his home in Alliance for a few days. Shortly before noon Mr. Rowe was engaged in making some ice cream and Gibbons went to assist him. He accidentally had his hand caught in the machinery, which almost resulted in the hand being severed at the wrist. The injury was dressed by Dr. W. T. Norris.
